16TH YEAR. NO. 266.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, APRIL 22, 1901.

TWO CENTS

THE RIVER STARTED TO FALL LATE ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

A FEW WEST ENDERS HAD TO MOVE OUT

No Sunday Trains Were Run, and the River Division of the C. & P. is Still Tied Up—Street Cars Did Not Run From Saturday Night Until This Afternoon—Thousands of Dollars Required to Repair Expense of the Storm.

After reaching a stage of about 34 feet, the river became stationary at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and shortly afterward began to fall—slowly at first, but still perceptibly. By this morning the river had fallen 18 inches. At 1 o'clock today the river was 32 feet and falling slowly. Danger is believed to be over, but damage and annoyance must continue for days. The Cleveland & Pittsburgh river division will run no trains today. Trains are in operation between Pittsburg and Cleveland on schedule time. The telegraph lines are in a measure restored, and telephone service is again in partial operation.

The steam railroad, the street railway, the telephone companies and the potteries are the greatest flood sufferers. The high water means the loss of many thousands of dollars to each of these interests.

The rainfall, which began about noon on Thursday, continued incessantly—except when interrupted by snow—until 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when the skies began to brighten. Although East Liverpool fared badly, the snowstorm here was nothing as compared to what was experienced at Salem, Lisbon, Summitville and other points in the vicinity.

All Sunday trains on the C. & P. were discontinued. The Panhandle branch, on the Southside, practically inoperative since Friday, will not be restored to its normal condition for several days.

The worst annoyance today is the stopping of the pumps at the city water works until this afternoon at 3 o'clock, causing a practical suspension of all branches of industry which require a full supply of water.

Two large engines at the water works were started at 2:30 p. m. today and the superintendent announces that the manufactures will be amply supplied with water to run their boilers by tomorrow morning. The street cars started to run about 2:15.

All the potteries of this city and Wellsville were closed today in the departments where power is used in operating.

The water did not reach a stage at which any great damage was done to the property along the river, although it required a vast amount of work on Saturday night and all of yesterday to prevent it.

At a majority of the river potteries the kilnmen and packers are working today, although they are handicapped to some extent.

All the river potteries and the French China plant at Klondike were partially closed down today.

There was considerable water in the basement of the Laughlin plant. The warehouse, packing shed and decorating department were kept running, and at the National plant sufficient wadding had been made to enable the kiln placers to set one kiln. It was thought that the Klondike plant would continue to run in full, as this company pumps its own water, and consequently was not affected by the city shutting off the water supply, as were the other plants. A large number of the employees of this plant live in the city proper and at Smith's Ferry. Those from the city were kept from work on account of the street cars not running, while those from Smith's Ferry were swamped by the floods, the larger part of that town being inundated.

The artificial gas plant suffered more than any other of the East End works. The water inside the works was about eight feet deep. The machinery was damaged considerably.

The water came into a number of houses in Jethro, but the occupants in a majority of cases had taken the precaution to move their goods to the upper stories. But two families removed their household goods from Jethro, and they discovered afterward that it would not have been necessary to take the step, as the water did not reach a dangerous place in the entire community.

The shantyboat residents were probably the worst sufferers from the flood, as they were kept busy looking after their lines since the river began to rise. No accidents of a serious character have yet been reported from among them, and if the river continues to recede at the present rate all will be safe by tomorrow morning.

At the street railway power house affairs have been in a very unsettled state for two days.

Service on the line was discontinued on Saturday night, and was not resumed until late this afternoon. The water works department informed the company Sunday morning that their engines must be shut down during the day provided they expected to furnish the city with lights on Sunday night. The suspension of operations on the street railway caused a vast amount of inconvenience to patrons in getting to and from their work.

The Columbiana County Telephone lines are still in a bad condition, and it will be several days before they can be placed in good order once more.

Linemen have been out since early Saturday morning. A force was sent out the Salineville line and another toward Steubenville. Word was received from the foreman who went to the latter point. When heard from he was at Knoxville and hoped to reach Steubenville by tomorrow morning.

The lines to Lisbon have been repaired and are now in good shape. This is the only out-of-town route belonging to the company that is working at the present time.

At 11:30 this morning the finishing touches were put to the repairs on the lines of the Central District Printing and Telegraph company, and their lines are now in first-class shape. A construction force had been at work in Wellsville, and these men were pressed into service on the repair crew. This was a valuable acquisition and enabled the management to finish up the work much sooner than had they been wholly dependent upon the local force. This company suffered less from the storm, owing to the fact that their construction is of a much more substantial make than any other used.

The Western Union is still sending messages subject to delay on account of bad breaks on the lines west of this city. All telegraph matter for points west is sent to Pittsburg and transmitted thence to the west.

Saturday the conductor of train 303, due in this city at 3:50 o'clock, said the snow drifts at Kensington would have no effect on his train and that he would eat his supper at Cleveland.

A STORE ROBBED BY YOUNG THIEVES

Revolvers, Cartridges and Knives Taken From the Eagle Hardware Establishment

Sam Dawson Appears to Have Been the Ringleader—Story Told By His Companions—Three Youthful Suspects in Custody.

Thieves broke into the Eagle Hardware store yesterday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock, and articles valued at between $35 and $40 taken.

The theft was not discovered until this morning, and Chief Thompson was at once notified. He had a well defined idea as to the identity of the thieves, and in a very short time the chief had the case well in hand. He arrested Fred Bradley and Sam Dawson on Sixth street early in the morning, and they were placed in jail.

Drexel Lowery learned of the arrest and came to the vicinity of city hall to have a few words with "Peg." Mayor Davidson heard the name and promptly took him in. He was brought into the mayor's office and questioned. When he had told his story there remained nothing to be done but hold a hearing, which was done this afternoon.

The story told by Lowery exonerated Bradley, and it is likely he will be released.

Lowery said that Sam had proposed that they go into the store and get a gun apiece. He studied for a few minutes and then consented to go. They gained an entrance through a basement window and made their way to a stairway, where a door was encountered. They broke a panel from the lower part of the door with a mattock and were thus enabled to go to the floor above. Ten revolvers and about a dozen knives, together with a quantity of cartridges, were taken. The booty was hid under a box car on the Horn switch, but a number of the articles were distributed among their friends on Sunday.

The youthful burglars are likely to get a trip to the reformatory, as the authorities have been greatly annoyed by them recently.

MEET THIS EVENING

ACTION EXPECTED BY MANUFACTURING POTTERS.

No Time Likely to Be Lost in Arranging Conference With Brotherhood.

The Western Manufacturers' association will meet this evening in the Potters' club, and it is likely they will take some action looking to a conference with the Brotherhood. If the committee is appointed at the meeting tonight no time will be lost in getting together.

The Brotherhood officials have been taking matters easy for the past week, evidently presuming that the next was due from the other side, and consequently had nothing to say.

FEDERISH ON TRIAL.

Must Answer to the Charge of Assaulting Mike Baile at Walker's Works.

John Federish is being tried in the court of Justice McLane this afternoon on a charge of assaulting Mike Baile at Walker several weeks ago. Baile has been in a critical condition for some time, and Dr. Norris went to Walker this morning to ascertain his present condition.

Removed to Trenton.

Jere Delaney returned to Trenton, N. J., Saturday evening after a visit of several days with friends in this city. He was accompanied by Charles Woods, who has accepted a position in the pottery at Trenton.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY

CHARGED AGAINST ROY RINEHART BY AN AGENT.

He Drove a Carriage And His Fare Protested Against the Charge.

Roy Rinehart will get a hearing to-night before the mayor on a charge of assault and battery.

Frank Oberkrich, traveling salesman for the American Sewer Pipe company, arrived in the city last Friday, and hiring a carriage drove to the East End. When he returned in the evening he was accompanied by F. F. Anderson. It was the intention to go east on the evening train. Rinehart was driving the carriage and when he made known his charge to the agent there was some protest. Rinehart did not argue the point, but jumped from the box and proceeded to trim the sewer pipe man. He succeeded admirably, and he will accordingly be asked to pay a fine when he appears at police headquarters to night.

PUZZLING PROBLEM

The Question of Increased Pay for Police Presents Difficulties.

One of the most difficult propositions which the new council has been called upon to consider is the question of an increase of the pay of the policemen.

Since Councilman McLane introduced the ordinance some three weeks ago, the matter has been discussed by all classes, and the conclusion arrived at that the increase should be granted, as it has been given out by several of the councilmen that the force would not be increased on account of the condition of the fund.

A resident who has been connected with municipal affairs for years is authority for the statement that if the police fund was devoted to the purpose for which it was intended the city could not only have an increased force, but could pay the $2.50 per day asked and have plenty of money to spare.

A prominent business man and heavy taxpayer said Saturday: "I appreciate the determination on the part of the council to conduct the affairs of the city in an economical manner, but I believe the police should have more money. We have an excellent set of policemen, and they do their duty."

It is likely the question will be disposed of at the next meeting of council.

NEW TRIAL GRANTED

JUDGE BOONE WILL HEAR METZGER CASE AGAIN.

Date for Rehearing May 1—Solicitor to Remain in Office. Court Notes.

Lisbon, April 22.—(Special.)—Judge Boone today rendered a lengthy decision in ruling on the application for a new trial in the case of Salem vs. Metzger. He granted the new trial and set the hearing for Wednesday, May 1, at 10 a. m. No order for removal from office was made.

William A. Tetlow, of Salem, wants judgment for $500 against L. H. and Lawrence Salsgiver, of that city. The defendants operate the Temperance Billiard Parlor on Main street and on January 24, while Tetlow was playing billiards, Salsgiver open a trap door behind him, which was unguarded. Tetlow stepped back and fell in, fracturing his left arm and has been unable to work since.

Marriage licenses have been granted to George E. Hamilton and Miss Cora Beam, of East Liverpool; Eli Handlin and Miss Martha E. Leslie, both of East Liverpool; John Matthews, of Niles, and Miss Maggie McCormick, of Lisbon.

The Damage at Wellsville.

Half a dozen families in the First ward of Wellsville had to move. The river division of the C. & P. is idle owing to a big washout at George's Run.

WRECK CAUSED BY EXPLOSION

Gasoline Let Go at the Diamond Hardware Company Store.

CAUSED AN EXCITING BLAZE

Damage to the Extent of $500 Resulted—The Cause of the Explosion a Mystery—Destructive Work in the Basement—Good Work of Firemen.

A gasoline explosion occurred at the Diamond Hardware store this morning. It was immediately followed by fire that threatened to assume dangerous proportions.

The explosion occurred in the rear of the basement, and in less than five minutes the smoke was so dense in every part of the house that it was almost impossible to go on with the work of fighting the fire.

Just how the accident occurred no one about the place is able to state, as those in charge of the store were all on the first floor when it happened, and the articles in the shop below are in such a confused mass just now that it is impossible to tell precisely where the blaze originated.

The building contains an elevator shaft that had been abandoned for some time, and was boarded roughly. The smoke had easy access to the upper portion of the building. The second story is used as a warehouse by the hardware company, the third floor is occupied by the families of Charles Pelton and Peter Devine, while Mrs. Mary Scott lives on the fourth floor.

The department made a remarkably quick run, and soon had two lines of hose playing on the fire, besides the Babcocks.

The smoke almost totally destroyed the contents of the upper floors, and the fire was so stubborn that it required almost an hour to extinguish it.

The loss will reach about $500, and is fully covered with insurance. The property was insured in the Niagara, Royal Exchange, Springfield, and North British and Mercantile companies, represented by the Hill company, McDole & Blazier and A. W. Scott. The loss will be adjusted at once.

ARRESTED BY NORACON

CREDIT FOR THE CAPTURE OF STAUB PROPERLY PLACED.

The Report That the Prisoner Was Captured By Detective Moore an Error.

Regarding the arrest of Curtis Staub for the murderous shooting of Andrew Miller, near Bayard, the first report was the correct one. Staub was arrested by Sheriff Noragon. The News Review, in common with the other daily papers of this county, on Friday published the statement that Staub was arrested by Detective Moore, of the Pennsylvania company. This was published on the authority of a Lisbon correspondent, who was misinformed. Moore was present, and very willing to assist, but he did not make the arrest, nor does he desire to claim the credit for it. That belongs to Sheriff Noragon alone.

Deputy Sheriff Bick, who was given as the authority for the story that Moore arrested Staub, says he made no such statement, and his report of the matter agrees exactly with that which comes from the sheriff's office, corroborated by the statements from the prisoner and from the Miller family. The sheriff did his duty and showed great zeal and enterprise in running down the suspect. The News Review regrets that the error of its correspondent led to any misleading account of the affair.

Miller, according to reports resided here, was still living Sunday, a bare chance for his recovery.

HIS SOLDIER BROTHER

Likes Soldiering in the Islands. Thinks the Guerrilla War Will Continue.

C. J. Goodballet has just received a letter from Charles Goodballet, his brother, who is in Company K, Seventeenth U. S. I., located at San Fernando, P. I. Mr. Goodballet states that he is in splendid health and likes soldiering in the islands more than ever. He thinks he will re-enlist when his present term expires, which will be in July of this year.

He thought the capture of Aquinaldo, since reported, would have little to do with the war there, and that there was just as much fighting at the time he wrote as there had been for many months before. He states that most soldiers hold the opinion that the guerilla warfare will continue for an indefinite length of time, as it has been carried for many years.

THE KAYLOR MEETINGS.

Large East End Audiences Hear the Evangelist.

Rev. A. H. Kaylor delivered an eloquent and masterly address to a well-filled house of men only at the Second U. P. church yesterday afternoon. He chose for his subject, "Is the Young Man Safe?" under which he discussed the various evils that beset the pathway of youth. His address was intensely practical and well received.

The evangelist preached both morning and evening to large audiences, and will continue his special meetings during the coming week. "Profit And Loss" will be the subject of his sermon tonight.

FIRST FREE LECTURE

Will Be Delivered on Thursday Night By Mr. Hard.

The series of free lectures, to be given at the Second M. E. church in the East End, will open on Thursday evening with a lecture by Charles T. Hard, of the Hard Furniture company, on "The Young Man in Business." He will treat of the character and qualities that lead to success in business life. The lecture will doubtless be well worth while listening to by young men and old.

Arrangements are in progress for other lectures. The topics and speakers will be duly announced.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Miss Maud Elliot is able to be out after a week's illness.

John Cartwright, Jr., is ill with the measles at his home in Helena.

William Kline, of Pleasant county, W. Va., is visiting at the home of his brother-in-law, C. J. Goodballet, in Helena.

Mrs. A. W. Day, who has been visiting during the past week at the home of her son, W. J. Day, will return to Corydon tomorrow morning.

George Beerman, Walter Wright and Sam Calhoun have accepted positions at Sebring, and will leave for that city Wednesday morning.

William Campbell and family, who have been visiting "Doc" Wright, of Dixonville, returned to their home at Hookstown, Pa., this morning.

George Arnold, who has been working in Philadelphia for the past six months, spent Sunday visiting his father in the East End. He left this morning for Glassport, Pa., where he will be employed in an electrical machine works.

Struck By a Train.

Steubenville, April 22. — Samuel Scott, of Hollidays Cove, W. Va., was struck by a westbound Panhandle passenger train last evening near Colliers station and sustained fatal injuries. He was brought to the railroad hospital here.

ORIGINAL M'KINLEY MAN

Appointed to the Governorship of the Territory of Oklahoma.

Washington, April 22.—Wm. M. Jenkins has just been appointed governor of Oklahoma territory, and is claimed to be "the original McKinley man." It is said his was the first McKinley vote cast at the Republican national convention of 1888, to which he was a delegate from Kansas. He removed to Oklahoma in 1893 and in 1897 was appointed secretary of the territory.

Mr. Jenkins was born at Alliance, O., in 1858, where he was reared and educated in the public schools and at Mount Union college. He is a graduate of the class of 1877. Dangerous Factories.

Not far from the heart of New York city is a factory for the manufacture of deadly poisons in quantities large enough to annihilate the entire population of New York. The factory is so guarded that even its next door neighbors need have no fear of it, but the possibilities stored there excite the imagination. No one may enter it without a special permit. The employees are all skilled men, well aware of the danger of the slightest carelessness. They manufacture, among other things, pure anhydrous acid, which is so dangerous that in its pure state it is not placed in the market. There is instant death in its fumes if they are permitted to escape. Nitric acid is stored in another part of the factory in big glass carboys. The men who work in this factory realize that a broken carboy of nitric acid would mean a disaster, and they treat it with the respect which it deserves. This factory and others like it are guarded more carefully than a safety deposit vault.—New York Sun.

When Bathing Was Rare.

In some old court memoirs of the eighteenth century which have recently been called again to attention it is stated that when George IV was a baby he was bathed only once a fortnight. That was thought to be plenty often enough in those days for a child to be washed. When one of George's little sisters had measles, the royal mother gave most careful instructions that the child's linen was not to be changed too soon, as she feared that some careless attendant would clothe it in garments insufficiently aired and so "drive in the rash." In those days people were much afraid of clean linen and bathing. It was believed the complete bodily ablutions were weakening, yet prince, peer and peasant alike called in at every ailment the doctors of the period, who bled them into a state of weakness and sometimes death.

STRIKING THE RIGHT SPOT.

There come times to every life when a lack of strength—failing appetite—poor circulation—weak heart action and many other symptoms may break in. They are not diseases—the person may not be laid up until they have existed a long time. The influence of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills is to create nerve force, and immediately people find themselves getting well because nerve force controls every vital organ of the body.

Mr. W. S. Gaston, of No. 264 Fifth street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Owing to a functional or nervous trouble and an impaired digestion my heart action was weak and irregular. The condition was far from pleasant and I was induced to get a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills at Larkins' drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets. I am pleased that I did so, as the medicine has so strengthened the nervous system and digestion that the heart action is regular and strong and feel otherwise well and generally pleased with the result."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medical company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

C. J. Goodballet has just received a letter from Charles Goodballet, his brother, who is in Company K, Seventeenth U. S. I., located at San Fernando, P. I. Mr. Goodballet states that he is in splendid health and likes soldiering in the islands more than ever. He thinks he will re-enlist when his present term expires, which will be in July of this year.

He thought the capture of Aquinaldo, since reported, would have little to do with the war there, and that there was just as much fighting at the time he wrote as there had been for many months before. He states that most soldiers hold the opinion that the guerilla warfare will continue for an indefinite length of time, as it has been carried for many years.

THE KAYLOR MEETINGS.Large East End Audiences Hear the Evangelist.

Rev. A. H. Kaylor delivered an eloquent and masterly address to a well-filled house of men only at the Second U. P. church yesterday afternoon. He chose for his subject, "Is the Young Man Safe?" under which he discussed the various evils that beset the pathway of youth. His address was intensely practical and well received.

The evangelist preached both morning and evening to large audiences, and will continue his special meetings during the coming week. "Profit And Loss" will be the subject of his sermon tonight.

RIVERS LAST NIGHT; PREDICTIONS FOR TODAY.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The river situation at Pittsburgh was somewhat relieved last night. At 10 a. m., after reaching a maximum stage of 27.5 feet, or 5.5 feet above the danger line, the Monongahela river began to fall, and about 8 p. m. the stage was 25.9 feet, a fall of 1.6 feet since morning. The maximum stage reached in the Allegheny river was 28.6 feet.

Below Pittsburgh the river was still rising. At Wheeling, W. Va., about noon, the river was 1.6 feet above the danger line of 30 feet and rising, and an extreme high water stage of at least 4.3 feet was indicated during Monday.

At Parkersburg the stage about 7
p. m. was 40 feet, four feet above the danger line, and a rise of three feet
since 8 a. m. A further rise to probably about 48 feet was expected during the 24 hours following.

Below Parkersburg the Kanawha,
Big Sandy and Scioto were sending out their flood volumes and at noon
the Ohio between Point Pleasant, W.
Va., and Cincinnati was rising one-half to one foot an hour, and rapidly approaching or passing the danger line at all points. At Cincinnati, about 7 p. m., the stage of the river was 42.4 feet, with every indication that the danger line of 50 feet would be reached or exceeded by about Monday
noon.

It was still raining or snowing over the upper Ohio valley, and therefore impossible to accurately predict the
time or the height of the flood crests
below Parkersburg, however, it was expected, the danger lines would be passed at all stations above Cincinnati during last night, and still higher stages prevail during Monday. Point Pleasant, W. Va., at 7 p. m., already reported a stage of 47 feet, or eight feet above the danger line, due to the Kanawha river flood waters. Below
Cincinnati the Ohio will also rise rapidly during the next few days, and all preparations should be made for a dangerous flood.

THE WATERS RECEDING ABOUT PITTSBURG.

Pittsburg, April 22.—Pittsburg and Allegheny will be fairly out of the clutches of the flood by this evening.
All day yesterday the waters which have surrounded them and in places
overflowed, causing damage and discontent, slowly retreated.

The retreat was very slow indeed.
All day and all last night the waters fell only a few inches an hour. But the fall was decided, and today it will be more rapid unless there should be a sudden and very great fall of rain

at the headwaters.

Even if this should occur, it was not believed that the rivers will again rise to the height which they reached yesterday morning.

Shortly before last midnight the stage of water at Davis Island dam
was 24 feet and falling at the rate of one-tenth of an inch an hour. At Lock No. 1 it was 26 feet and falling two inches an hour. At Herra island it was 26 feet and falling three inches
an hour.

At all three of the dams a continuous fall was looked for and that the fall would become more rapid with the passing of today. There may not be more than 22 feet of water in the harbor by this evening.

At all points the receding of the flood began soon after it reached its highest point. This was 29½ feet at Lock No. 1 shortly after 6 o'clock
yesterday morning, 28½ feet at Herra island at 3 o'clock in the morning, and 25 feet and 9 inches at Davis island about 9 o'clock in the morning. The water was practically stationary longest at Davis island, where it stood at about the figure named from 5 o'clock in the morning until 9, when
it began very slowly to go down.

The day in Pittsburgh and Allegheny was not marked by any sensational events. The waters did not rise high enough to occasion great suffering, and the most serious consequences will be the suspension of
work at industrial establishments on the river front. This is likely to be longest in the Lawrenceville district
and in lower Allegheny, the upper Southside not being greatly effected.
An estimate is that 15,000 men were temporarily deprived of employment.

The following deaths were reported:

Mrs. Mary Patterson, aged 80 years, of River avenue, Allegheny, whose death is alleged to excitement caused by the water surrounding her house.
Unknown woman, whose body was said to have been found near Woodville.

The following railroads were crippled
Saturday: Pennsylvania lines, southwest system (Panhandle); Pittsburg, Chariers and Youghiogheny;
Baltimore and Ohio; Pittsburgh and Lake Erie; Allegheny Valley; Pennsylvania lines, northwest system (Ft.
Wayne); Pittsburgh and Castle Shannon; Pittsburgh and Western; Pennsylvania railroad.

The monetary loss cannot be estimated, but may amount to millions.

Dozens of manufacturing plants are closed down along the two rivers and
work.

COAL MINES FILLED, RAILROADS SUFFERED.

The damage incurred by the river
coal company Saturday was the flooding along the Monongahela river. The mines will have to be pumped out,
which will require much time and labor. Railroads running between the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela rivers were great sufferers. A landslide on the Panhandle division of the Pennsylvania suspended traffic on that division Sunday, while one at Copper Works station, on the Baltimore and Ohio, caused a suspension of traffic for many hours, and after much work one track was opened. Reports from all surrounding towns Sunday were to the effect that the damage was great and flood general.

Every railroad entering the city on Sunday suffered from trouble of some kind, including landslides, washouts, snowfalls and inundations, causing dangerous obstructions to traffic and great damage to roadbeds and telegraph lines.

The borough of Carnegie was practically inundated Sunday and the damage done in this thriving little borough will reach thousands of dollars.

Flood and landslides did great damage in Homestead and vicinity Sunday. The Second avenue street railway was tied up most of the day by severe landslides in West Homestead,
just above the Mesta Machine company. Several tons of stuff came down from the hillside. A force of men was at once called from the Glenwood car barns and it was late in the afternoon before the tracks were cleared. In the meantime pas-

LITTLE DAMAGE DONE AT HOMESTEAD.

Little damage was done in Homestead proper except by the flooding
of the streets. The sewers in the town have proven several times lately
to be inadequate to handle the water that comes down, and yesterday the streets were filled with water during the morning, which filled a number of cellars.

Up West run, in West Homestead,
a score of houses were flooded by the creek becoming dammed and turning

New Castle, Pa., April 22.—This city was storm-swept Sunday and all business was practically suspended.
Both the Shenango and Neshannock rivers threatened great damage to property. Yesterday afternoon the Shenango overflowed its banks near the center of the manufacturing district and caused the Shenango tin mill, the largest in the world, and the Baldwin & Graham stove foundry to close down. A few hours later the

THE GREAT APRIL FLOOD IS NOW SLOWLY RECEDING

The Badly Flooded Regions Above Report a Much Brighter Outlook.

RIVER FALLING AT PITTSBURG

Danger Line at Cincinnati Will Probably Be Reached Sometime Today.

SHOTS FIRED AT STEAMBOATS.

In and About Wheeling People Fired at the Steamers to Keep Them Away From their Houses, Fearing the Waves Would Destroy Their Property—Number of Plants Shut Down About Pittsburgh and Allegheny City and About 15,000 Men Rendered Idle—Rivers in West Virginia and Ohio Pouring Their Swollen Waters Into the Ohio—Much Suffering in Some of the Towns. Snow Storm in Ohio.

WEATHER FORECAST.

OHIO AND WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA—RAIN OR SNOW TODAY; BRISK TO HIGH NORTHERLY WINDS. TOMORROW FAIR AND PROBABLY WARMER.

WEST VIRGINIA—RAIN OR SNOW TODAY. TOMORROW FAIR; PROBABLY WARMER; WEST TO NORTH WINDS.

RIVERS LAST NIGHT; PREDICTIONS FOR TODAY.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The river situation at Pittsburgh was somewhat relieved last night. At 10 a. m., after reaching a maximum stage of 27.5 feet, or 5.5 feet above the danger line, the Monongahela river began to fall, and about 8 p. m. the stage was 25.9 feet, a fall of 1.6 feet since morning. The maximum stage reached in the Allegheny river was 28.6 feet.

Below Pittsburgh the river was still rising. At Wheeling, W. Va., about noon, the river was 1.6 feet above the danger line of 30 feet and rising, and an extreme high water stage of at least 4.3 feet was indicated during Monday.

At Parkersburg the stage about 7 p. m. was 40 feet, four feet above the danger line, and a rise of three feet since 8 a. m. A further rise to probably about 48 feet was expected during the 24 hours following.

Below Parkersburg the Kanawha, Big Sandy and Scioto were sending out their flood volumes and at noon the Ohio between Point Pleasant, W. Va., and Cincinnati was rising one-half to one foot an hour, and rapidly approaching or passing the danger line at all points. At Cincinnati, about 7 p. m., the stage of the river was 42.4 feet, with every indication that the danger line of 50 feet would be reached or exceeded by about Monday noon.

It was still raining or snowing over the upper Ohio valley, and therefore impossible to accurately predict the time or the height of the flood crests below Parkersburg, however, it was expected, the danger lines would be passed at all stations above Cincinnati during last night, and still higher stages prevail during Monday. Point Pleasant, W. Va., at 7 p. m., already reported a stage of 47 feet, or eight feet above the danger line, due to the Kanawha river flood waters. Below Cincinnati the Ohio will also rise rapidly during the next few days, and all preparations should be made for a dangerous flood.

THE WATERS RECEDING

ABOUT PITTSBURG.

Pittsburg, April 22.—Pittsburg and Allegheny will be fairly out of the clutches of the flood by this evening. All day yesterday the waters which have surrounded them and in places overflowed, causing damage and discomfort, slowly retreated.

The retreat was very slow indeed. All day and all last night the waters fell only a few inches an hour. But the fall was decided, and today it will be more rapid unless there should be a sudden and very great fall of rain at the headwaters.

Even if this should occur, it was not believed that the rivers will again rise to the height which they reached yesterday morning.

Shortly before last midnight the stage of water at Davis Island dam was 24 feet and falling at the rate of one-tenth of an inch an hour. At Lock No. 1 it was 26 feet and falling two inches an hour. At Herra island it was 26 feet and falling three inches an hour.

At all three of the dams a continuous fall was looked for and that the fall would become more rapid with the passing of today. There may not be more than 22 feet of water in the harbor by this evening.

At all points the receding of the flood began soon after it reached its highest point. This was 29½ feet at Lock No. 1 shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning, 28½ feet at Herra island at 3 o'clock in the morning, and 25 feet and 9 inches at Davis Island about 9 o'clock in the morning. The water was practically stationary longest at Davis island, where it stood at about the figure named from 5 o'clock in the morning until 9, when it began very slowly to go down.

The day in Pittsburgh and Allegheny was not marked by any sensational events. The waters did not rise high enough to occasion great suffering, and the most serious consequences will be the suspension of work at industrial establishments on the river front. This is likely to be longest in the Lawrenceville district and in lower Allegheny, the upper Southside not being greatly effected. An estimate is that 15,000 men were temporarily deprived of employment.

The following deaths were reported:

Mrs. Mary Patterson, aged 80 years, of River avenue, Allegheny, whose death is alleged to excitement caused by the water surrounding her house. Unknown woman, whose body was said to have been found near Woodville.

The following railroads were crippled Saturday: Pennsylvania lines, southwest system (Panhandle); Pittsburgh, Chariers and Youghiogheny; Baltimore and Ohio; Pittsburgh and Lake Erie; Allegheny Valley; Pennsylvania lines, northwest system (Ft. Wayne); Pittsburgh and Castle Shannon; Pittsburgh and Western; Pennsylvania railroad.

The monetary loss cannot be estimated, but may amount to millions.

Dozens of manufacturing plants are closed down along the two rivers and thousands of workmen are out of work.

COAL MINES FILLED.

RAILROADS SUFFERED.

The damage incurred by the river coal company Saturday was the flooding along the Monongahela river. The mines will have to be pumped out, which will require much time and labor. Railroads running between the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela rivers were great sufferers. A landslide on the Panhandle division of the Pennsylvania suspended traffic on that division Sunday, while one at Copper Works station, on the Baltimore and Ohio, caused a suspension of traffic for many hours, and after much work one track was opened. Reports from all surrounding towns Sunday were to the effect that the damage was great and flood general.

Every railroad entering the city on Sunday suffered from trouble of some kind, including landslides, washouts, snowfalls and inundations, causing dangerous obstructions to traffic and great damage to roadbeds and telegraph lines.

The borough of Carnegie was practically inundated Sunday and the damage done in this thriving little borough will reach thousands of dollars.

Flood and landslides did great damage in Homestead and vicinity Sunday. The Second avenue street railway was tied up most of the day by severe landslides in West Homestead, just above the Mesta Machine company. Several tons of stuff came down from the hillside. A force of men was at once called from the Glenwood car barns and it was late in the afternoon before the tracks were cleared. In the meantime passengers had been transferred.

LITTLE DAMAGE DONE

AT HOMESTEAD.

Little damage was done in Homestead proper except by the flooding of the streets. The sewers in the town have proven several times lately to be inadequate to handle the water that comes down, and yesterday the streets were filled with water during the morning, which filled a number of cellars.

Up West run, in West Homestead, a score of houses were flooded by the creek becoming dammed and turning the water into the street.

New Castle, Pa., April 22.—This city was storm-swept Sunday and all business was practically suspended. Both the Shenango and Neshannock rivers threatened great damage to property. Yesterday afternoon the Shenango overflowed its banks near the center of the manufacturing district and caused the Shenango tin mill, the largest in the world, and the Baldwin & Graham stove foundry to close down. A few hours later the

THE APRIL FLOOD.

The April flood is subsiding and everybody along the river breathes easier. Although much damage has been done, it might have been worse. That is the only consolation, but there is much cause for thankfulness in it. Business of all sorts has been seriously interrupted, and the railroad companies, telephone companies and pottery owners have sustained damages that it will cost them many thousands to repair. But there have been no fatalities and no very serious accidents. Baseless stories have been telegraphed abroad of "a hundred families homeless" in the West End—thus depopulating Jethro—but these were to be expected. The "special" fiend does not need a flood to set him to lying; he is at it every day.

It will take days to repair the damage and restore telephone, street car lines and the steam railroad to their former condition. But the warning given on Friday and Saturday had its effect, and was the means of averting greater destruction. Everybody was expecting a flood and was prepared for it.

NIGHT WORK FOR PLANTS.

Nature intended that plants, like animals, should sleep at night. They have been following that fashion for centuries. Now some enterprising experimenters of the department of agriculture propose to get them out of it and double the wheat crop and other sorts of crops. Experiments carried on at several agricultural stations are said to prove that plants can be made to work and grow at night, and the vegetable creature which suspends activity for sleep and race may soon become a back number.

Light, as well as air, soil and water, is essential to plant growth. It was discovered a few years ago that the illumination of gardens at night by electric light will keep plants awake and growing, and it seems they are deceived into believing the day continues. Plants thus treated grow much faster, and develop much earlier than others allowed their "every night off." The government is now commencing a series of experiments to learn whether Welsbach gas lamps cannot also be used as substitutes for the sun. It is also growing plants in soil actually fertilized by electricity, and learning that such treatment also hastens plant growth.

Farmers long since learned that vegetables could be raised out of season, but the necessary equipments of a hot house are too costly to prevent the general adoption of this method. It is probable that a similar obstacle will stand in the way of the success of the new experiment. For, although most farmers believe in diversified crops, very few of them include electric light plants among the plants they raise.

BUSINESS-LIKE.

The postoffice department has long urged the importance of having every letter that is sent through the mails bear the address of the writer on the outside as well as on the inside. Then, if it goes astray, or fails to reach the person to whom it is addressed, it can be returned directly to the writer and not sent to the dead letter office. The importance of having all letters so marked is duly appreciated by business men, and no man who writes many letters now fails to have his business card, or at least his address printed on the corner of the envelope—unless he is in some business he is ashamed of.

The plan is not only a good one for the postoffice department, but for the letter-writer as well. His printed name and address are before the recipient of the letter, who, in answering it, can make no mistake in either. Then, if the writer forgets to sign his name—as letter-writers not infrequently do—there is the letter-head to explain where and whom the missive is from.

Farmers are beginning to see the advantage of using printed stationery. It looks well, is business-like, and gives the recipient, if a stranger, a better impression of the writer. Buying letterheads and envelopes in lots of 500 or 1,000 each, the cost of printing is so little that it will be actual economy to use the printed form, rather than to buy paper and envelopes in small bunches at retail prices. It is an idea worthy of general adoption.

East Liverpool is once more on the map. Two days of isolation from the world helped to show that our own resources are great enough to be more appreciated than they commonly are. Still, it is a satisfaction to be in touch once more with the great world beyond our borders.

If the Filipinos will now be good we are willing to accept Aguinaldo's word for it that he has some influence with them.

Aguinaldo is no longer a Bryan Democrat, but a man of peace.

A FINE SPECIMEN

E. D. Marshall Killed a Large Loon on the South-side.

"Help, help! for Heaven's sake, help me! I have shot a goose!" There were the words heard by John Gardner at his home in Chester yesterday morning, and shortly after E. D. Marshall appeared in the room with a loon which he had shot.

The bird was espied by Mr. Marshall, who went to the house and securing a gun, shot it. It is a very beautiful specimen and measures 2½ feet from tip to tip. The bird is at the drug store of J. T. Hodson on Broadway, and it will be mounted.

Mrs. J. Kearns returned to her home in Steubenville Saturday afternoon after attending the funeral of Mrs. Isaac Beardmore, of the East End.

Inconsistent.

"You are a most inconsistent woman," said Henpeck, turning at last. "I am, eh?" she retorted. "How?" "You insist upon having and using only the most expensive things, and yet—" "Well? You certainly never objected to that?" "No, but do be consistent. Don't use so much talk. It's cheap."—Philadelphia Press.

Swindled.

"The saddest, most blighted life case I ever knew," said the major, "was that of a man who received a life pass over a new railroad." "How was that?" asked the colonel. "Why, the pass was issued before there was a rail laid, and then the road was never built. He has felt swindled ever since."—Indianapolis Press.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Samuel Fagle, aged 65, is dead at Homeworth.

A. F. C. Waddell, a prominent business man of Youngstown, died last week.

The Galloping White Hearse.

It was in the dark of the evening, and the streets were thronged with men and women on their way home at the end of the day's work. At Thirty-fourth street, where Broadway and Sixth avenue cross with a network of tracks, the usual clangor of gongs, the shouts of newsboys and the roar of the elevated trains filled the air, while myriad electric lights sparkled like so many stars.

Suddenly out of the gloom came a little white hearse, being driven rapidly home. Its sad day's work was over, and the little horses were probably anxious for their dinner. Still it gave one a shock to see them galloping so. Even more pathetic it looked when empty than with its precious little burden. The very emptiness spoke of the vacant little chair at home, the unused toys, the un-worn frocks folded away for some woman to cry over on a rainy day.

Fathers hurrying home to their own little ones felt a sudden lump in the throat, mothers leading their children grasped the little hands with a quick access of tenderness, and a strange, sad sense of loneliness came to the heart of the passerby who had no child to lose. Just a little white hearse, seen only for a moment in the gathering darkness by the hurrying throng, but what a world of pathos it suggested!—New York Mail and Express.

Artificial Legs.

The most lifelike and serviceable artificial legs in the world are manufactured in America. Enormous quantities of these limbs are shipped to Europe every year.

The first great boom in the artificial leg business was brought about by the civil war. Since that time railroad and trolley car accidents have kept up an ever increasing demand. Another factor has been the general use of antiseptics. The mortality among those who have their legs amputated is far less than formerly, and a large proportion of the survivors become patrons of the wooden leg factories.

The old fashioned peg leg is practically a thing of the past. The modern artificial leg shows a great advance over the old forms. Every improvement has been with the idea of greater simplicity.

The main object of the manufacturers is to improve the fit of the legs. The best models now cost $100. It costs from $5 to $25 a year to keep one of these in order.

Few women wear artificial legs. On the other hand, it is becoming more common to fit limbs to children. Legs are made for children sometimes before they can walk. They are fitted as soon as the child learns to stand and make it possible for it to develop symmetrically.

Hygienic.

"Your poetry," we ventured, "is eminently healthy!"

"It should be!" rejoined the poet, with dignity. "I am always extremely careful to boil my Pierian spring water before drinking, or, rather, quaffing it!"—Detroit Journal.

Anecdotes of Evarts.

One summer when William M. Evarts was at his country home in Windsor, Vt., a farmer who had followed his political career in the newspapers for many years was extremely anxious to see him in the flesh and drove 18 miles into town in order to catch a glimpse of his idol.

Senator Evarts at that time was being entertained constantly, dining out almost every night, and as he drove out of his grounds to an appointment one evening the farmer was lying in wait for him in the road. "Well, I declare," he exclaimed, "looks as if he'd always boarded!"

An impromptu riddle is attributed to him here at his country place. One day in presiding at table with a swarm of grandchildren about him he asked, "What is the difference between this goose before dinner and me after?"

After much futile guessing he said in quiet glee:

"Now the goose is stuffed with sage, and then the sage," pointing to himself, "will be stuffed with goose."—Home Journal.

THE APRIL FLOOD.

The April flood is subsiding and everybody along the river breathes easier. Although much damage has been done, it might have been worse. That is the only consolation, but there is much cause for thankfulness in it. Business of all sorts has been seriously interrupted, and the railroad companies, telephone companies and pottery owners have sustained damages that it will cost them many thousands to repair. But there have been no fatalities and no very serious accidents. Baseless stories have been telegraphed abroad of "a hundred families homeless" in the West End—thus depopulating Jethro—but these were to be expected. The "special" fiend does not need a flood to set him to lying; he is at it every day. It will take days to repair the damage and restore telephone, street car lines and the steam railroad to their former condition. But the warning given on Friday and Saturday had its effect, and was the means of averting greater destruction. Everybody was expecting a flood and was prepared for it.

NIGHT WORK FOR PLANTS.

Nature intended that plants, like animals, should sleep at night. They have been following that fashion for centuries. Now some enterprising experimenters of the department of agriculture propose to get them out of it and double the wheat crop and other sorts of crops. Experiments carried on at several agricultural stations are said to prove that plants can be made to work and grow at night, and the vegetable creature which suspends activity for sleep and race may soon become a back number.

Light, as well as air, soil and water, is essential to plant growth. It was discovered a few years ago that the illumination of gardens at night by electric light will keep plants awake and growing, and it seems they are deceived into believing the day continues. Plants thus treated grow much faster, and develop much earlier than others allowed their "every night off." The government is now commencing a series of experiments to learn whether Welsbach gas lamps cannot also be used as substitutes for the sun. It is also growing plants in soil actually fertilized by electricity, and learning that such treatment also hastens plant growth.

Farmers long since learned that vegetables could be raised out of season, but the necessary equipments of a hot house are too costly to prevent the general adoption of this method. It is probable that a similar obstacle will stand in the way of the success of the new experiment. For, although most farmers believe in diversified crops, very few of them include electric light plants among the plants they raise.

can be returned directly to the writer and not sent to the dead letter office. The importance of having all letters so marked is duly appreciated by business men, and no man who writes many letters now fails to have his business card, or at least his address printed on the corner of the envelope—unless he is in some business he is ashamed of.

The plan is not only a good one for the postoffice department, but for the letter-writer as well. His printed name and address are before the recipient of the letter, who, in answering it, can make no mistake in either. Then, if the writer forgets to sign his name—as letter-writers not infrequently do—there is the letter-head to explain where and whom the missive is from.

Farmers are beginning to see the advantage of using printed stationery. It looks well, is business-like, and gives the recipient, if a stranger, a better impression of the writer. Buying letterheads and envelopes in lots of 500 or 1,000 each, the cost of printing is so little that it will be actual economy to use the printed form, rather than to buy paper and envelopes in small bunches at retail prices. It is an idea worthy of general adoption.

East Liverpool is once more on the map. Two days of isolation from the world helped to show that our own resources are great enough to be more appreciated than they commonly are. Still, it is a satisfaction to be in touch once more with the great world beyond our borders.

If the Filipinos will now be good we are willing to accept Aguinaldo's word for it that he has some influence with them.

Aguinaldo is no longer a Bryan Democrat, but a man of peace.

"Help, help! for Heaven's sake, help me! I have shot a goose!"

There were the words heard by John Gardner at his home in Chester yesterday morning, and shortly after E. D. Marshall appeared in the room with a loon which he had shot.

The bird was espied by Mr. Marshall, who went to the house and securing a gun, shot it. It is a very beautiful specimen and measures 2½ feet from tip to tip. The bird is at the drug store of J. T. Hodson on Broadway, and it will be mounted.

Inconsistent.

"You are a most inconsistent woman," said Henpeck, turning at last.

"I am, eh?" she retorted. "How?"

The Galloping White Hearse.

It was in the dark of the evening, and the streets were thronged with men and women on their way home at the end of the day's work. At Thirty-fourth street, where Broadway and Sixth avenue cross with a network of tracks, the usual clangor of gongs, the shouts of newsboys and the roar of the elevated trains filled the air, while myriad electric lights sparkled like so many stars.

Suddenly out of the gloom came a little white hearse, being driven rapidly home. Its sad day's work was over, and the little horses were probably anxious for their dinner. Still it gave one a shock to see them galloping so. Even more pathetic it looked when empty than with its precious little burden. The very emptiness spoke of the vacant little chair at home, the unused toys, the untorn frocks folded away for some woman to cry over on a rainy day.

Fathers hurrying home to their own little ones felt a sudden lump in the throat, mothers leading their children grasped the little hands with a quick access of tenderness, and a strange, sad sense of loneliness came to the heart of the passerby who had no child to lose. Just a little white hearse, seen only for a moment in the gathering darkness by the hurrying throng, but what a world of pathos it suggested!—New York Mail and Express.

Artificial Legs.

The most lifelike and serviceable artificial legs in the world are manufactured in America. Enormous quantities of these limbs are shipped to Europe every year.

The first great boom in the artificial leg business was brought about by the civil war. Since that time railroad and trolley car accidents have kept up an ever increasing demand. Another factor has been the general use of antiseptics. The mortality among those who have their legs amputated is far less than formerly, and a large proportion of the survivors become patrons of the wooden leg factories.

The old fashioned peg leg is practically a thing of the past. The modern artificial leg shows a great advance over the old forms. Every improvement has been with the idea of greater simplicity.

The main object of the manufacturers is to improve the fit of the legs. The best models now cost $100. It costs from $5 to $25 a year to keep one of these in order.

Few women wear artificial legs. On the other hand, it is becoming more common to fit limbs to children. Legs are made for children sometimes before they can walk. They are fitted as soon as the child learns to stand and make it possible for it to develop symmetrically.

FOUR MEN RAISED BIG DISTURBANCE

They Were Unwelcome Visitors
at the Boyer Home on Second Street.

Flatirons, Clubs And Kitchen Utensils
Were Used And the Intruders Badly
Punished—The Latter Made a
Hasty Escape And Were Arrested.

The superabundance of water in town on Saturday night did not prevent the usual number of lusers from indulging in something stronger, and the mayor's docket this morning showed that the police had not been idle over Sunday.

Officers Aufderheide, Morris and Davidson were assigned to look after Second street on Saturday night, and their duties until almost midnight consisted principally of answering the hundred and one questions which the people who were directly or indirectly affected by the flood, put to them.

They left the "Row" at 11:40 and on the way up the hill they encountered a crowd making their way to the lower part of town, and from their appearance and condition the officers had a well defined idea as to how the party would wind up.

The crowd consisted of James Ward, better and more commonly known as "Big Ike, of Klondike"; Tom Davis and "Billy" Rolley. They were joined a little later by John O'Malley and the quartet proceeded to the vicinity of the old opera house.

They all seemed to think of the same thing at once, and went up the stairs to the second story, where are quartered a family named Boyer. They proposed to enter and spend a while whether the occupants were agreeable or not. They were not, and that is how it all came about.

The Boyers paid the rent and proposed to defend the place against any and all intruders. Then followed an old-fashioned second street scrap, in which flat irons, clubs, stove lids, chairs, poker, and as a last resort, fists played a prominent part.

The Boyers and their friends had the best end of the argument at first, and drove the four men down the hall until they were cornered. They were pummeled and cuffed until they looked as though they had jumped from the fourth story widow, but finally concluded they must fight their way to liberty or they would not get out at all. This was a more difficult proposition than they had calculated upon, as forces on the other side had increased steadily from other parts of the building. They finally succeeded in breaking through the line and made their escape down the stairs.

Meanwhile no less than 200 people had gathered in the hall and about the building to watch the fun. O'Malley, who was the last man out, had a badly discolored optic where it had come in contact with a stove lifter, and it will take careful treatment to preserve the sight.

The agitators succeeded in escaping, but were picked up today by Officers Davidson, Aufderheide and Morris and instructed to appear this evening to answer a charge of disorderly conduct by fighting.

Naming the White House.

Why is the president's mansion at Washington called the White House? It has been so called for years and years, and now no one thinks of using any other name, although "executive mansion" is the official term. The name White House is a reminder of the second war with England. Aug. 24, 1814, the British army captured Washington and burned the public buildings, the president's mansion being among those to suffer. It was damaged to some extent, and to hide the fire stains it was painted white, and white it has been painted every year or two since.

The home of Washington's mother was called the "white house," and this may have suggested the name, but the fact that the mansion was so assiduously painted white after the war of 1812 doubtless brought the term into popular use.

THE DAMAGE IN CHESTER

RAILROAD WILL BE TIED UP SEVERAL DAYS.

Some Families Had to Move—Store Goods Taken to Places of Safety.

Chester suffered much damage. In the upper part of town John Martin and Reese Coon were the only ones who were obliged to remove their families and furniture upstairs. Many cellars were filled with water. In the lower part of town Joe Hobbs moved his family from his house, but the water did not quite reach the first floor. The Allison Grocery company removed a large amount of store goods from its cellar, but the water did not reach there. The bank in front of Shrader's residence was slightly damaged.

The filling back of the basement walls on the bridge across the railroad at Second street was washed to a considerable extent. The roads leading into Chester are all in very bad condition.

On the railroad traffic cannot be resumed for three or four days.

MISSING 20 YEARS

BENJ. BOODY BACK AFTER BEING MOURNED AS DEAD.

Came From Wyoming Where He Has Amassed a Comfortable Fortune.

Benjamin Boody, of Carbon county, Wyoming, is visiting friends in Chester and East Liverpool. Mr. Boody was formerly a resident of East Liverpool and is well known among the older residents. He resided on Second street and was employed as a teamster at Croxall's pottery. He disappeared from this city 20 years ago and his friends, who were unable to learn anything of his whereabouts, had long believed him to be dead.

His case was remembered as one of those mysterious disappearances that frequently occur and his friends were greatly surprised when he turned up in this locality Sunday. He had worked in the copper mines of Wyoming during the entire 20 years, and has amassed a comfortable fortune. He has not decided as to whether he shall return to Wyoming. His daughter, Miss Maggie Boody, has resided in Chester for several years. He is also related to William Croxall, who resides in Chester.

BROKE HIS ARM

Serious Accident to Eph Johnson, a Kilnhand, This Morning.

A broken arm and a dislocated and badly bruised wrist is the result of an accident that happened to Eph Johnson, who resides on California avenue, while he was drawing kiln at Thomas' knob factory in East Liverpool this morning. Mr. Johnson had just opened a new kiln. William Johnson, who was stationed at the top of the kiln, had just reached Eph Johnson two sappers of ware when he slipped and fell with his full weight on the two sappers of ware in Eph Johnson's hands. Mr. Johnson's arm was caught between this ware and the other sappers near the bottom, with the result stated. The wound was exceedingly painful, but Mr. Johnson reset the bone in its proper place without assistance. He then made his way to Dr. Toot's office, where the dislocated wrist was replaced and the lacerated member dressed. He will be unable to resume work for several weeks.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN.

Morning And Evening Services Full of Interest.

Both the morning and evening services at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday were remarkably well attended in view of the inclement weather. Rev. Dr. McKinley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Steubenville, was engaged to preach in the absence of the pastor; but he telephoned on Saturday that on account of the high water and the interruption of train service, he would be unable to reach here.

Rev. Charles Swan, a returned missionary from China, occupied the pulpit in the morning and Rev. W. E. Hill in the evening. Mr. Swan's subject was the responsibility of Christianity for the spread of the gospel, and Mr. Hill's the excellency of the knowledge of Christ. Both sermons were well received, and the day's services were unusually interesting and profitable.

The Tobacco Taste.

"Even the best judges of tobacco can't always be depended on," remarked a dealer to a reporter recently. "Sometimes their taste goes back on them, so to speak, and remains blunted for a week at a stretch. One of my customers, for instance, is a well to do merchant, who is very particular about his cigars and one of the few real connoisseurs in town. When he is in good form, he can tell more about tobacco on a superficial examination than anybody I know, with the single exception of a dealer who has a big reputation as an expert. About a month ago this gentleman began to complain about a favorite brand of very high class cigars. I knew the goods were all right and advised him to buy something else for awhile. He finally began smoking a pipe and used a cheap cut plug that he declared was the best smoke he ever tried. One day, all of a sudden, his taste returned, and he went back to the cigars. At present the bare smell of cut plug will make him sick. Strange, isn't it? They tell me that the professional samplers of tobacco take a week off every few months and never look at the weed until they return to duty. In that way they keep in condition."—Washington Star.

Tapioea.

This elegant and delicate starch is the product of a plant that is cultivated very extensively in the Malay peninsula, where its culture is almost entirely in the hands of the Chinese. The tubers of the plant (Manihot utilisima), which weigh on an average from 10 to 25 pounds, are first scraped and then carefully washed, after which they are reduced to a pulp by being passed between rollers. This pulp is carefully washed and shaken up with abundance of water until the felcula separates and passes through a very fine sieve into a tub placed beneath. The flour so obtained is repeatedly washed and then plated on mats and bleached by exposure to the sun and air. It is finally converted into the pearl tapioca of commerce by being placed in a crude shaped frame covered with canvas. It is slightly moistened and subjected to a rotary motion, by which means it is granulated. It is next dried in the sun and finally over the fire in an iron pan greased with vegetable tallow and is then ready for the market.

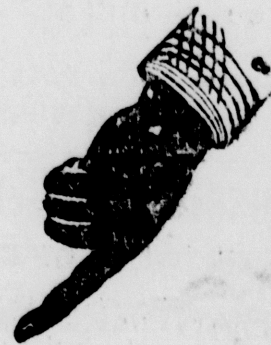

When Booth Laughed.

William Mestayer, the comedian, once said: "I never saw Edwin Booth laugh heartily but once. We were playing 'Julius Caesar' at Baldwin's in Frisco. Booth was Brutus, McCullough was Cassius, Harry Edwards was Caesar and Charley Bishop and I were plain, everyday citizens. It was the last night of the run, and we all felt frisky. So when Caesar spoke the well known line, 'Let me have men about me that are fat,' Bishop and I, both fat men, walked boldly up to Caesar and shook him heartily by the hand. It broke Booth all up, and he laughed outright."

FOUR MEN RAISED BIG DISTURBANCE

They Were Unwelcome Visitors at the Boyer Home on Second Street.

Flatirons, Clubs And Kitchen Utensils Were Used And the Intruders Badly Punished—The Latter Made a Hasty Escape And Were Arrested.

The superabundance of water in town on Saturday night did not prevent the usual number of lusers from indulging in something stronger, and the mayor's docket this morning showed that the police had not been idle over Sunday.

Officers Aufderheide, Morris and Davidson were assigned to look after Second street on Saturday night, and their duties until almost midnight consisted principally of answering the hundred and one questions which the people who were directly or indirectly affected by the flood, put to them.

They left the "Row" at 11:40 and on the way up the hill they encountered a crowd making their way to the lower part of town, and from their appearance and condition the officers had a well defined idea as to how the party would wind up.

The crowd consisted of James Ward, better and more commonly known as "Big Ike, of Klondike"; Tom Davis and "Billy" Rolley. They were joined a little later by John O'Malley and the quartet proceeded to the vicinity of the old opera house.

They all seemed to think of the same thing at once, and went up the stairs to the second story, where are quartered a family named Boyer. They proposed to enter and spend a while whether the occupants were agreeable or not. They were not, and that is how it all came about.

The Boyers paid the rent and proposed to defend the place against any and all intruders. Then followed an old-fashioned Second street scrap, in which flat irons, clubs, stove lids, chairs, poker, and as a last resort, fists played a prominent part.

The Boyers and their friends had the best end of the argument at first, and drove the four men down the hall until they were cornered. They were pummeled and cuffed until they looked as though they had jumped from the fourth story widow, but finally concluded they must fight their way to liberty or they would not get out at all. This was a more difficult proposition than they had calculated upon, as forces on the other side had increased steadily from other parts of the building. They finally succeeded in breaking through the line and made their escape down the stairs.

Meanwhile no less than 200 people had gathered in the hall and about the building to watch the fun. O'Malley, who was the last man out, had a badly discolored optic where it had come in contact with a stove lifter, and it will take careful treatment to preserve the sight.

The agitators succeeded in escaping, but were picked up today by Officers Davidson, Aufderheide and Morris and instructed to appear this evening to answer a charge of disorderly conduct by fighting.

Naming the White House.
Why is the president's mansion at Washington called the White House? It has been so called for years and years, and now no one thinks of using any other name, although "executive mansion" is the official term. The name White House is a reminder of the second war with England. Aug. 24, 1814, the British army captured Washington and burned the public buildings, the president's mansion being among those to suffer. It was damaged to some extent, and to hide the fire stains it was painted white, and white it has been painted every year or two since.

The home of Washington's mother was called the "white house," and this may have suggested the name, but the fact that the mansion was so assiduously painted white after the war of 1812 doubtless brought the term into popular use.

SOUTH SIDE.

THE DAMAGE IN CHESTER

RAILROAD WILL BE TIED UP SEVERAL DAYS.

Some Families Had to Move—Store Goods Taken to Places of Safety.

Chester suffered much damage. In the upper part of town John Martin and Reese Coon were the only ones who were obliged to remove their families and furniture upstairs. Many cellars were filled with water. In the lower part of town Joe Hobbs moved his family from his house, but the water did not quite reach the first floor. The Allison Grocery company removed a large amount of store goods from its cellar, but the water did not reach there. The bank in front of Shrader's residence was slightly damaged.

The filling back of the basement walls on the bridge across the railroad at Second street was washed to a considerable extent. The roads leading into Chester are all in very bad condition.

On the railroad traffic cannot be resumed for three or four days.

MISSING 20 YEARS

BENJ. BOODY BACK AFTER BEING MOURNED AS DEAD.

Came From Wyoming Where He Has Amassed a Comfortable Fortune.

Benjamin Boody, of Carbon county, Wyoming, is visiting friends in Chester and East Liverpool. Mr. Boody was formerly a resident of East Liverpool and is well known among the older residents. He resided on Second street and was employed as a teamster at Croxall's pottery. He disappeared from this city 20 years ago and his friends, who were unable to learn anything of his whereabouts, had long believed him to be dead.

His case was remembered as one of those mysterious disappearances that frequently occur and his friends were greatly surprised when he turned up in this locality Sunday. He had worked in the copper mines of Wyoming during the entire 20 years, and has amassed a comfortable fortune. He has not decided as to whether he shall return to Wyoming. His daughter, Miss Maggie Boody, has resided in Chester for several years. He is also related to William Croxall, who resides in Chester.

BROKE HIS ARM

Serious Accident to Eph Johnson, a Kilnhand, This Morning.

A broken arm and a dislocated and badly bruised wrist is the result of an accident that happened to Eph Johnson, who resides on California avenue, while he was drawing kiln at Thomas' knob factory in East Liverpool this morning. Mr. Johnson had just opened a new kiln. William Johnson, who was stationed at the top of the kiln, had just reached Eph Johnson two sappers of ware when he slipped and fell with his full weight on the two sappers of ware in Eph Johnson's hands. Mr. Johnson's arm was caught between this ware and the other sappers near the bottom, with the result stated. The wound was exceedingly painful, but Mr. Johnson reset the bone in its proper place without assistance. He then made his way to Dr. Toot's office, where the dislocated wrist was replaced and the lacerated member dressed. He will be unable to resume work for several weeks.

Judgment for Plaintiff.

The case of Mack Johnson versus George Sheckler was heard by Johnson Saturday at 4 o'clock p. m. The plaintiff claimed $190 due as royalty on a coal mine. The justice gave judgment for the plaintiff for $37.

Sold a Lot.

W. H. Riley has sold a small tract of land to J. W. Hendershot, of East Liverpool. The lot fronts 50 feet on Fairview street and extends back 120 feet. Consideration private.

Case Continued.

The suit of Prosser versus Sterling, which was set for hearing in Justice Johnson's court this morning, was continued until Thursday.

Youngstown Elks have let the contract for their new building to Arthur G. Young and the price is $41,675. This bid does not include the plumbing and decorating. Mr. Young, the successful bidder, is a Youngstown man and a contractor of conceded merit and ability. Work on the new building will commence at once, it being Mr. Young's intention to break ground just as soon as he can get his men together and the work will be pushed to successful conclusion as rapidly as possible and in keeping with the best possible workmanship. It is the hope and present plans of the Elks to be in their new building on December 1.

The Odd Fellows, at their meeting tonight, will confer the second degree upon one candidate, and transact other important business.

The Elks, at their meeting Thursday evening, transacted routine business and initiated one new candidate.

Ohio Valley Council No. 23, O. U. A. M., initiated two candidates at their meeting Thursday night.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN.

Morning And Evening Services Full of Interest.

Both the morning and evening services at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday were remarkably well attended in view of the inclement weather. Rev. Dr. McKinley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Steubenville, was engaged to preach in the absence of the pastor; but he telephoned on Saturday that on account of the high water and the interruption of train service, he would be unable to reach here.

Rev. Charles Swan, a returned missionary from China, occupied the pulpit in the morning and Rev. W. E. Hill in the evening. Mr. Swan's subject was the responsibility of Christianity for the spread of the gospel, and Mr. Hill's the excellency of the knowledge of Christ. Both sermons were well received, and the day's services were unusually interesting and profitable.

The Tobacco Taste.

"Even the best judges of tobacco can't always be depended on," remarked a dealer to a reporter recently. "Sometimes their taste goes back on them, so to speak, and remains blunted for a week at a stretch. One of my customers, for instance, is a well to do merchant, who is very particular about his cigars and one of the few real connoisseurs in town. When he is in good form, he can tell more about tobacco on a superficial examination than anybody I know, with the single exception of a dealer who has a big reputation as an expert. About a month ago this gentleman began to complain about a favorite brand of very high class cigars. I knew the goods were all right and advised him to buy something else for awhile. He finally began smoking a pipe and used a cheap cut plug that he declared was the best smoke he ever tried. One day, all of a sudden, his taste returned, and he went back to the cigars. At present the bare smell of cut plug will make him sick. Strange, isn't it? They tell me that the professional samplers of tobacco take a week off every few months and never look at the weed until they return to duty. In that way they keep in condition."—Washington Star.

THE GREAT APRIL FLOOD.

big steel mill was also forced to stop work, as the water drowned out the fires.

Canton, O., April 22.—Snow, which began to fall, resulted in almost a suspension of business here Saturday. Local passenger No. 43, westbound, on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago, was stalled two miles west of this city.

There were 25 passengers on board. Some of the men worked their way to a farm house and secured food. Two shifting engines sent to its relief were ditched, and an eastbound freight was snowbound near the passenger.

A passenger train on the Carrollton branch of the Wheeling and Lake Erie was tied up near Osnaburg. All trace was lost of a northbound Cleveland Terminal and Valley passenger train about 10 miles south and engines were sent from here to hunt for it.

DANGER LINE EXPECTED

AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, O., April 22.—There was alarm throughout the Ohio valley Sunday on account of the floods. Most of the inhabitants of the valley spent last night in anticipation of the worst flood ever known in the valley, as some would not know until today the water had begun falling at Pittsburgh. Until this news reached the river men here last night, it was feared that the record of 1884 might be broken, but now it is generally believed that the river will not exceed the floods of February, 1897, and of March, 1898, when it reached 61 feet at Cincinnati. The present flood is the worst that has ever been known so late in the spring. The first week in April, 1886, the river reached 55 feet and 9 inches in this city, and that was the highest water ever known so late in the spring. There has been no flood in the Ohio valley since March, 1898, and these floods have rarely occurred as late as March, usually in February. The flood will do much more damage now than it would have done one or two months ago. While the close observing river men last night were confident that the record of 1884 will not be broken unless another mountain flood soon reaches Pittsburgh, yet it was evident that much damage will be done before the present rise is exhausted. While the water had begun to fall at Pittsburgh, both rain and snow had been falling heavily Saturday night and Sunday and last night in the Ohio valley. The danger line had already been reported at points above Cincinnati, and it might be reached here today. The merchants and manufacturers in the lower part of the city had been working Sunday and Sunday night, preparing for the worst. The Sunday excursion season was to have started here Sunday, but navigation was stopped because the boats could not pass under the bridges.

HEAVY SNOWS AND RAINS

IN THE OHIO VALLEY.

Early last evening the bureau here announced heavy snows and rains along the Ohio valley, especially in Southern Ohio. The uniform rise during the day was four-tenths of a foot per hour, but the average was higher last night. The weather bureau announced that the danger line had been reached at all sub-stations last night and that it would be reached in Cincinnati today about noon. The stage was 44 feet and 7 inches at 6 o'clock here last night and the danger line is 50 feet. At Point Pleasant the stage was eight feet above the danger line last night, with the river rising rapidly and a heavy rain. The mayor of Portsmouth, O., telegraphed that the danger line had been reached there, and that a heavy snow was falling last night. Similar reports had been received at the weather bureau from points in Southern Ohio, and as far north as Springfield. Owing to the general prostration of telegraph and telephone wires it was impossible to hear from many points. The trains were late on the railroads, and some trains that were due Saturday night from the east had not yet arrived last night. It was generally believed that the fruit crop throughout the Ohio valley was gone and the damage to crops was very great.

Maysville, Ky., April 22.—The residents of Front street, in this city, began moving upstairs Sunday afternoon on account of the high water. The Ohio river has risen 11 feet since Sunday evening, rising about three and a half inches per hour. The government gauge registered about 47 feet at 7 p. m. A blinding snow storm was raging in the afternoon. Trains from the east were from about four to six hours late.

WHEELING ISLAND

SUFFERED BADLY.

Wheeling, April 22.—The flood reached the very highest stage here. Last night a Wheeling island man fired at the packet Keystone State and at a passing towboat, but without effect. In Wheeling, Bellaire, Bridgeport, Benwood and Martins Ferry about 500 houses have been entered by the water, most of the families moving to upper floors. Nearly every establishment in the Wheeling district is shut down and cannot resume until Tuesday. At Martins Ferry the water destroyed about 500,000 brick of the Belmont Brick company, entailing a loss of about $20,000 to about $30,000. There were smaller losses at other plants, aggregating probably about $40,000. Taking the loss of business, railroad landslides and industrial losses, the aggregate cost of the flood in this district may be at least about $100,000, probably more.

Above Martins Ferry, James Ford, a miner, discovered the Cleveland and Pittsburgh track washed out. Knowing a north bound passenger train was due in about 30 minutes, he returned a part distance and succeeded in stopping the train a few yards from certain destruction. The Ohio River railroad had a number of landslides and considerable washed out track below Wheeling, involving a big loss and suspension of traffic, probably for several days. On the Baltimore and Ohio Wheeling-Pittsburgh division there was a landslide at Claysville, preventing through traffic between the two cities. There will be much distress in the district, most of the losers by the flood being the poorer classes.

United States Senator N. B. Scott wired the Intelligencer from Washington, contributing $500 for relief.

Section Director E. C. Vose, of the Parkersburg signal station, wired late night predicting about 48 feet at Parkersburg, and said the later rains at headwaters might bring out a second rise on top of the present flood stage. This, however, was believed to be on the alarmist order. Much timber was lost in the Little Kanawha river.

A report from Marietta, O., that a number of people had been drowned near that place was without confirmation.

STORM IN OHIO

GRADUALLY SUBSIDED.

Cleveland, April 22.—The fierce storm of wind and snow that swept over this city and Northern Ohio, throughout Saturday and Sunday night gradually subsided Sunday. It was followed last night by a fog so dense that it was almost impossible to see from one side of the street to the other. Notwithstanding the heroic efforts of the telegraph and telephone companies to repair their prostrated lines there has thus far been little improvement to the service. Not a single wire was working on any direct route between this city and Buffalo or Pittsburgh last night. Throughout the day big gangs of men had been at work on the various lines resetting poles and stringing wires. Every available man had been pressed into service by the several companies, and while the repair work was progressing rapidly, it will perhaps be several days before direct communication with points east of Cleveland is fully re-established.

Trains on practically all roads entering the city continued to arrive from one to three hours behind schedule time. This was especially true in regard to the lines from the east. The fact that there were no wires to facilitate the movement of trains was responsible to a large extent for the delay to traffic. A number of suburban electric lines, running east and south from this city were still tied up.

Traffic on the city street car lines continued to be badly crippled Sunday as a result of a deep snow and slush on the tracks. So heavy is the snow and slush in many places that the most powerful sweepers are stalled in it.

A large section of the city was cut off from communication by wire with fire headquarters. Some fire alarm boxes were out of service and seven fire department stations were without telegraph or telephone communication as a result of the general prostration of wires.

about 75 years ceased. The Ohio passed the danger line of 50 feet and was still rising 3.9 inches an hour, with the Guyandotte, Big Sandy, Tug and Twelve Pole also rising rapidly at all points. Fully 10 feet more water was expected here. The Kanawha Great damage resulted throughout the southern and central portions of the state. There was much suffering among people compelled to seek quarters in the hills along the Guyandotte and Twelve Pole. There was heavy suffering at Catlettsburg, Cere, Central City, Dingess, Dunlow, Barboursville and many smaller towns. Owing to the wires being down it was almost impossible to learn the situation in the interior counties, but judging by the debris in all the rivers it is evident great damage has resulted.

Youngstown, O., April 22.—Snow here brought traffic of all kinds nearly to a standstill Saturday. The railroads leading into and out of the city were badly crippled, many trains being hours behind time. Telephone and telegraph wires were broken down by the weight of the snow, and the city was cut off from outside communication for a period of 10 hours. The street car service was completely abandoned all over the city, the snow being so heavy the snow plows could not be operated. Several small buildings and barns collapsed from the weight of snow.

THE CONNOQUENESSING

CREEK OVERFLOWED.

Butler, Pa., April 22.—A steady fall of rain since Thursday afternoon had swollen the Connoquenessing creek Sunday until it overflowed its banks and flooded half a hundred families out of their homes. The channel of the creek was partly filled with waste sand from the Standard plate glass works, and the stream was dammed and narrowed at places by bridges and fills of the Bessemer railroad. This increased the spread of the flood. In this city, Race, West Shore, Willow and parts of Pillow, Jefferson and Broad streets were inundated.

Beaver Falls, Pa., April 22.—The incessant rains caused Walnut run, which flows through the western part of this place, to overflow its banks Sunday and do much damage to manufacturing plants and residences. The Beaver river was higher than it has been for many years, and is doing much damage to the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and Erie and Pittsburgh railroads.

MANHATTAN INSURANCE.

Official Examination Shows Serious Impairment.

Chicago, April 22.—A New York special to the Western Underwriter says. The report of the examination of the Manhattan Fire Insurance company by the New York department was made public and shows an impairment of $489,703, the impairment of December 31 last being $245,649. It is said that the statement of the company, filed with the department, was false in many particulars. A bad state of affairs is thus revealed.

The department throws out $100,000 from the assets, it being a mortgage loan on unimproved Staten Island property. The aggregate assets are $772,845. The liabilities are $762,548, which, with the capital of $500,000, makes the impairment above noted. The liabilities show borrowed money, $200,000. The reinsurance reserve is $272,320. The unpaid losses are $110,873. The unimpaired capital is $1,296.

THE GREAT APRIL FLOOD.

big steel mill was also forced to stop work, as the water drowned out the fires.

Canton, O., April 22.—Snow, which began to fall, resulted in almost a suspension of business here Saturday. Local passenger No. 43, westbound, on the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago, was stalled two miles west of this city.

There were 25 passengers on board.
Some of the men worked their way to a farm house and secured food.
Two shifting engines sent to its relief were ditched, and an eastbound freight was snowbound near the passenger.

A passenger train on the Carrollton branch of the Wheeling and Lake Erie was tied up near Osnaburg. All trace was lost of a northbound Cleveland Terminal and Valley passenger train about 10 miles south and engines were sent from here to hunt for it.

DANGER LINE EXPECTED

AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, O., April 22.—There was alarm throughout the Ohio valley Sunday on account of the floods.
Most of the inhabitants of the valley spent last night in anticipation of the worst flood ever known in the valley, as some would not know until today
the water had begun falling at Pittsburg. Until this news reached the river men here last night, it was feared that the record of 1884 might be broken, but now it is generally believed that the river will not exceed the floods of February, 1897, and of March, 1898, when it reached 61 feet at Cincinnati. The present flood is the worst that has ever been known so late in the spring. The first week in April, 1886, the river reached 56 feet and 9 inches in this city, and that was the highest water ever known so late in the spring. There has been no flood in the Ohio valley since March, 1898, and these floods have rarely occurred as late as March, usually in February. The flood will do much more damage now than it would have done one or two months ago. While the close observing river men last night were confident that the record of 1884 will not be broken unless another mountain flood soon reaches Pittsburg, yet it was evident that much damage will be done before the present rise is exhausted.

While the water had begun to fall at Pittsburg, both rain and snow had been falling heavily Saturday night and Sunday and last night in the Ohio valley. The danger line had already been reported at points above Cincinnati, and it might be reached here today. The merchants and manufacturers in the lower part of the city had been working Sunday and Saturday night, preparing for the worst.
The Sunday excursion season was to have started here Sunday, but navigation was stopped because the boats could not pass under the bridges.

IN THE OHIO VALLEY.

Early last evening the bureau here announced heavy snows and rains along the Ohio valley, especially in Southern Ohio. The uniform rise during the day was four-tenths of a foot per hour, but the average was higher last night. The weather bureau announced that the danger line had been reached at all sub-stations last night and that it would be reached in Cincinnati today about noon.
The stage was 44 feet and 7 inches at 6 o'clock here last night and the danger line is 50 feet. At Point Pleasant the stage was eight feet above the danger line last night, with the river rising rapidly and a heavy rain. The mayor of Portsmouth, O., telegraphed that the danger line had been reached there, and that a heavy snow was falling last night. Similar reports had been received at the weather bureau from points in Southern Ohio, and as far north as Springfield. Owing to the general prostration of telegraph and telephone wires it was impossible to hear from many points. The trains were late on the railroads, and some trains that were due Saturday night from the east had not yet arrived last night. It was generally believed that the fruit crop throughout the Ohio valley was gone and the damage to crops was very great.

Maysville, Ky., April 22.—The residents of Front street, in this city, began moving upstairs Sunday afternoon on account of the high water.
The Ohio river has risen 11 feet since Sunday evening, rising about three and a half inches per hour. The government gauge registered about

47 feet at 7 p. m. A blinding snow storm was raging in the afternoon.
Trains from the east were from about four to six hours late.

WHEELING ISLAND

SUFFERED BADLY.

Wheeling, April 22.—The flood reached the very highest stage here.

Last night a Wheeling island man fired at the packet Keystone State and at a passing towboat, but without effect. In Wheeling, Bellaire, Bridgeport, Benwood and Martins Ferry about 500 houses have been entered by the water, most of the families moving to upper floors. Nearly every establishment in the Wheeling district is shut down and cannot resume until Tuesday. At Martins Ferry the water destroyed about 500,000 brick of the Belmont Brick company, entailing a loss of about $20,000 to about $30,000. There were smaller losses at other plants, aggregating probably about $40,000. Taking the loss of business, railroad landslides and industrial losses, the aggregate cost of the flood in this district may be at least about $100,000, probably more.

Above Martins Ferry, James Ford,
a miner, discovered the Cleveland and Pittsburg track washed out.
Knowing a north bound passenger train was due in about 30 minutes, he returned a part distance and succeeded in stopping the train a few yards from certain destruction. The Ohio River railroad had a number of land-slides and considerable washed out track below Wheeling, involving a big loss and suspension of traffic, probably for several days. On the Baltimore and Ohio Wheeling-Pittsburg division there was a landslide at Claysville, preventing through traffic between the two cities. There will be much distress in the district, most of the losers by the flood being the poorer classes.

United States Senator N. B. Scott wired the Intelligencer from Washington, contributing $500 for relief.

Section Director E. C. Vose, of the Parkersburg signal station, wired last night predicting about 48 feet at Parkersburg, and said the later rains at headwaters might bring out a second rise on top of the present flood stage. This, however, was believed to be on the alarmist order. Much timber was lost in the Little Kanaw-ha river.

A report from Marietta, O., that a number of people had been drowned near that place was without confirmation.

GRADUALLY SUBSIDED.

Cleveland, April 22.—The fierce storm of wind and snow that swept over this city and Northern Ohio, throughout Saturday and Saturday night gradually subsided Sunday. It was followed last night by a fog so dense that it was almost impossible to see from one side of the street to the other. Notwithstanding the heroic efforts of the telegraph and telephone companies to repair their prostrated lines there has thus far been little improvement to the service.
Not a single wire was working on any direct route between this city and Buffalo or Pittsburg last night.
Throughout the day big gangs of men had been at work on the various lines resetting poles and stringing wires.
Every available man had been pressed into service by the several companies, and while the repair work was progressing rapidly, it will perhaps be several days before direct communication with points east of Cleveland is fully re-established.

Trains on practically all roads entering the city continued to arrive from one to three hours behind schedule time. This was especially true in regard to the lines from the east.
The fact that there were no wires to facilitate the movement of trains was responsible to a large extent for the delay to traffic. A number of suburban electric lines, running east and south from this city were still tied up.

Traffic on the city street car lines continued to be badly crippled Sunday as a result of a deep snow and slush on the tracks. So heavy is the snow and slush in many places that the most powerful sweepers are stalled in it.

A large section of the city was cut off from communication by wire with fire headquarters. Some fire alarm boxes were out of service and seven fire department stations were without telegraph or telephone communication as a result of the general prostration of wires.

about 75 years ceased. The Ohio passed the danger line of 50 feet and was still rising 3.9 inches an hour, with the Guyandotte, Big Sandy, Tug and Twelve Pole also rising rapidly at all points. Fully 10 feet more water was expected here. The Kanawha Great damage resulted throughout the southern and central portions of the state. There was much suffering among people compelled to seek quarters in the hills along the Guyandotte and Twelve Pole. There was heavy suffering at Catlettsburg, Cereso, Central City, Dingess, Dunlow, Barboursville and many smaller towns. Owing to the wires being down it was almost impossible to learn the situation in the interior counties, but judging by the debris in all the rivers it is evident great damage has resulted.

Youngstown, O., April 22.—Snow here brought traffic of all kinds nearly to a standstill Saturday. The railroads leading into and out of the city were badly crippled, many trains being hours behind time. Telephone and telegraph wires were broken down by the weight of the snow, and the city was cut off from outside communication for a period of 10 hours.
The street car service was completely abandoned all over the city, the snow being so heavy the snow plows could not be operated. Several small buildings and barns collapsed from the weight of snow.

THE CONNOQUENESSING

CREEK OVERFLOWED.

Butler, Pa., April 22.—A steady fall of rain since Thursday afternoon had swollen the Connoquenessing creek Sunday until it overflowed its banks and flooded half a hundred families out of their homes. The channel of the creek was partly filled with waste sand from the Standard plate glass works, and the stream was dammed and narrowed at places by bridges and fills of the Bessemer railroad.
This increased the spread of the flood.
In this city, Race, West Shore, Willow and parts of Pillow, Jefferson and Broad streets were inundated.

Beaver Falls, Pa., April 22.—The incessant rains caused Walnut run, which flows through the western part of this place, to overflow its banks Sunday and do much damage to manufacturing plants and residences. The Beaver river was higher than it has been for many years, and is doing much damage to the Pittsburg and Lake Erie and Erie and Pittsburg railroads.

Official Examination Shows Serious Impairment.

Chicago, April 22.—A New York spe-

The report of the examination of the Manhattan Fire Insurance company by the New York department was made public and shows an impairment of $489,703, the impairment of December 31 last being $245,649. It is said that the statement of the company, filed with the department, was false in many particulars. A bad state of affairs is thus revealed.

The department throws out $100,000 from the assets, it being a mortgage loan on unimproved Staten Island property. The aggregate assets are $772,845. The liabilities are $762,545, which, with the capital of $500,000,
makes the impairment above noted.
The liabilities show borrowed money $200,000. The reinsurance reserve is $272,320. The unpaid losses are $110,-
873. The unimpaired capital is $1,-

THE ISLAND STATUS

Philippine Tariff Question May Await Supreme Court Decision.

Out of About 419 Paragraphs, Only About 33 Provoked Criticism or Suggestion—Even These Nearly All Mild and Mostly Suggestions.

Washington, April 22.—It is not likely that the new Philippine tariff will be promulgated until after the decision of the supreme court in the insular cases. It is stated in the war department, where the matter has received consideration, that this decision may make it unnecessary for the government to establish a system of tariff rates in the Philippines, although the department has proceeded with the work of equalizing the rates and receiving and considering suggestions as though the coming decision would not make any change in the present conditions.

Some months ago the war department published the tariff as prepared by the tariff experts in the Philippines and approved by the Taft commission. Interested parties, especially manufacturers and shippers, were invited to examine this proposed tariff and make suggestions and criticisms. It is interesting to note that of the about 419 paragraphs in the proposed tariff only about 33 paragraphs provoked criticism or suggestion. Even these were in a mild tone and nearly all take the form of suggestions.

Some of the more important suggestions were embodied in the following:

It was suggested that there will be difficulty in making all duties specific and that in many cases perhaps ad valorem duties will be better. There are some objections to the metric system, as American goods are in yard folds and European goods are in metric folds. If the yard folds are continued it will be better for the American manufacturers.

The Manila chamber of commerce asked that four months intervene between the promulgation of the tariff and its enforcement. No provision was made for marking oleomargarine to distinguish it from butter. The dairy interests thought such a provision desirable. A lower rate was asked for gasoline to be used for fuel and for launches. An ad valorem duty was advised upon the precious stones and watches. One firm suggested that coppers and oxide should be upon the free list.

It was claimed that cotton yarn should not be admitted at a lower rate than fabrics woven from such yarn; also that the weight and washing of cotton tissues should be changed in the interest of coarser cotton fabrics. There was quite an extensive discussion of this subject and it was pointed out that changes in the Cuban tariff also were needed in this particular.

The free entry of "news" print paper was advocated.

Reductions were asked of from 20 to 40 per cent on harness and saddle makers' wares. It was suggested that cheap and expensive machinery should not pay the same rates. Certain typewriter firms wanted the duty on their machines reduced.

A change was asked in the classification of meat products. It was said that the duty on alcohol should be doubled, or manufacturers of whiskey would be able to use the alcohol for making whiskey at a much less cost than the distilled product.

California manufacturers asked a reduction on flour, cereals, prunes, benzine, gasoline and petroleum, some of them suggesting that these articles be placed on the free list. Condensed milk and fish some Pacific coast persons desired also should be placed on the free list.

One suggestion made was that all materials for the United States forces should be admitted free of duty.

Some rather interesting information reached the war department in connection with the tariff, it being shown that Russia sends to the Philippine two-fifths of all the petroleum imported by the people of the islands.

ATTACKED BY CHINESE.

Boxers and Robbers Caused Punjaub to Retreat.

Pekin, April 22.—Brigadier General A. J. F. Reid, commanding the Third brigade of the India Imperial service troops in China, who is now at Shan Hai Kwan, sent a company of punjab infantry to disperse a band of robbers in the neighborhood of Fu Ning.

A force of "Boxers" and robbers, more than a thousand strong, attacked the Indian troops, killing Major Browning and one Sepoy and wounding others. The company retreated to Fu Ning.

Reinforcements have been sent from Shan Hai Kwan. The "Boxers" are apparently well armed with modern rifles.

Father Mullin Withdrew It Temporarily, but Is Willing to Increase It.

New York, April 22.—The $10,000 reward offered by the Rev. Father Mullin, of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Highbridge, for the return of the lost Willie McCormick to his parents and the arrest of his kidnapers, was withdrawn by the priest. Father Mullin said he had been compelled to take this action to escape a horde of mountebanks, clairvoyants, fakirs of every sort and cranks of all degrees, who have besieged him since he posted the money.

"I have had no time whatever for the performance of my sacred duties since I offered the reward," said Father Mullin. "I have had letters from all over the country and there have awaited me daily scores of persons pretending to know something of the lost lad. I have withdrawn the reward temporarily, as I have work that must be attended to. My offer has been good for four days and has produced no result, but infinite annoyance to me. If there come any news of the boy within the next week that appears to give hope I will at once renew my offer and increase the amount."

IRON WATER TANK FELL.

Loosened by Wind—Some Persons Were Injured.

Chicago, April 22.—High wind loosened a huge iron water tank from its fastening on the roof of the Galbraith building, Madison and Franklin streets, causing it to crash through the six floors to the ground, injuring five persons and resulting in a damage to the building estimated at $50,000. The injured:

Richard O'Brien, skull fractured by falling timbers; will die.

John Slotkin, back and shoulders injured by falling timbers.

Frank E. Langs, scalp wounds from falling glass.

Severio Pegaro, bootblack, with stand in building, shoulder dislocated and head severely injured by falling glass.

John P. Wiley, scalp wounds.

With two exceptions, the injured were pedestrians on the street, who had not time to make their escape. Had the accident happened on any other day but Sunday many lives would undoubtedly have been lost, as the building was occupied by several firms employing a large number of people.

The tank was 25 feet long, 6 feet in diameter and contained 40,000 gallons of water. In falling it made a hole about 40 feet square through the building.

RESERVOIR IN DANGER.

Army of Workmen Trying to Prevent Disastrous Flood in Ohio.

Toledo, O., April 22.—The people living for miles about the Lewiston reservoir in Logan county are greatly alarmed over a small break in the banks near the bulkhead. Between 300 and 400 men with teams were hauling thousands of shocks of corn fodder and packing it along the dangerous places in the embankment.

The community is much alarmed. The water in the reservoir, which covers about 1,000 acres, is within a foot of the top of the embankment, and should a serious break occur the loss to property, and perhaps life, cannot be calculated. Reliefs of men and teams are being secured from all over that section of the country. A few years ago the embankment broke and flooded the country for miles around.

EX-GOV. STOCKLEY DEAD.

For Years He Was Prominent in Politics, Chiefly in Delaware.

Dover, Del., April 22.—Former Governor Charles C. Stockley, a picturesque figure in Delaware politics and formerly a Democratic state leader, died late Sunday night after a long illness, at his home in Georgetown. He was 82 years old and had served in public life since early manhood. He served as county treasurer, county sheriff and was twice elected to the state senate. During his second term in the legislature he was elected speaker of the senate.

In 1882 his party selected him as chief executive of the state. In 1896 he left the Democratic party on the money question and championed the gold Democratic cause, serving as presidential elector candidate. After this he passed into private life.

The Washington university is represented among the lecturers by Monsigneur Conaty, its rector; Prof. Robinson, of the law department; Prof. Charles Aiken and Prof. Charles Neill, Ottawa university sends Rev. M. J. Fallon; Georgetown university, Rev. Dr. Pardow; Boston college, Rev. Thomas Gasson; New York City college, Messrs. Taaffe and Coleman, and St. Thomas college, of Washington, Rev. James J. Fox. The University of Pennsylvania has a representative in Dr. James J. Walsh, the lecturer on biology and the history of scientific progress. In addition, such lecturers as Rev. Joseph Delaney, Henry Austin Adams, Rev. P. J. Mahoney, Miss Eugenie Ulrich, Walter P. Terry and Rev. Herbert Farrell, of New York; Herbert Carruth, Thomas A. Mullen and Rev. Mortimer Twomey, of Boston; Monsignor Loughlin, of Philadelphia; Rev. Charles Kelly, of Hoboken; Rev. Dr. Driscoll, of Albany; Rev. Morgan Shedy, of Pittsburgh; and Hon. Thomas Linehan, of New Hampshire, will discuss various questions.

ATTACKED BY CHINESE.

Boxers and Robbers Caused Punjaub to Retreat.

Pekin, April 22.—Brigadier General A. J. F. Reid, commanding the Third brigade of the India Imperial service troops in China, who is now at Shan Hai Kwan, sent a company of punjab infantry to disperse a band of robbers in the neighborhood of Fu Ning.

A force of "Boxers" and robbers, more than a thousand strong, attacked the Indian troops, killing Major Browning and one Sepoy and wounding others. The company retreated to Fu Ning.

Reinforcements have been sent from Shan Hai Kwan. The "Boxers" are apparently well armed with modern rifles.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.

A. J. Johnson, of This City, Will Enter the Race.

It is now an assured fact that East Liverpool will have a candidate for sheriff in the next canvass in the person of A. J. Johnson. Mr. Johnson was seen this morning, and, while he is not prepared to make a final announcement, stated that he would make the run.

Milton E. Ailes, the new assistant secretary of the treasury, is a remarkably young man to hold such an important position. He is just 34. Mr. Ailes entered the treasury department at the age of 20 and has been advanced from the bottom of the ladder by reason of his abilities. He is now considered one of the ablest experts on national finance in the country.

REWARD FOR KIDNAPERS.

New York, April 22.—The $10,000 reward offered by the Rev. Father Mullin, of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Highbridge, for the return of the lost Willie McCormick to his parents and the arrest of his kidnapers, was withdrawn by the priest, Father Mullin said he had been compelled to take this action to escape a horde of mountebanks, clairvoyants, fakirs of every sort and cranks of all degrees, who have besieged him since he posted the money.

"I have had no time whatever for the performance of my sacred duties since I offered the reward," said Father Mullin. "I have had letters from all over the country and there have awaited me daily scores of persons pretending to know something of the lost lad. I have withdrawn the reward temporarily, as I have work that must be attended to. My offer has been good for four days and has produced no result, but infinite annoyance to me. If there come any news of the boy within the next week that appears to give hope I will at once renew my offer and increase the amount to any sum that will produce the results—the capture of the kidnapers and the return of the boy."

IRON WATER TANK FELL.

Loosened by Wind—Some Persons Were Injured.

Chicago, April 22.—High wind loosened a huge iron water tank from its fastenings on the roof of the Galbraith building, Madison and Franklin streets, causing it to crash through the six floors to the ground, injuring five persons and resulting in a damage to the building estimated at $50,000. The injured:

Richard O'Brien, skull fractured by falling timbers; will die.

Julia Slotkin, back and shoulders injured by falling timbers.

Frank E. Langs, scalp wounds from falling glass.

Severo Pegaro, bootblack, with stand in building, shoulder dislocated and head severely injured by falling glass.

John P. Wiley, scalp wounds.

With two exceptions, the injured were pedestrians on the street, who had not time to make their escape. Had the accident happened on any other day but Sunday many lives would undoubtedly have been lost, as the building was occupied by several firms employing a large number of people.

The tank was 25 feet long, 6 feet in diameter and contained 40,000 gallons of water. In falling it made a hole about 40 feet square through the building.

RESERVOIR IN DANGER.

Army of Workmen Trying to Prevent Disastrous Flood in Ohio.

Toledo, O., April 22.—The people living for miles about the Lewiston reservoir in Logan county are greatly alarmed over a small break in the banks near the bulkhead. Between 300 and 400 men with teams were hauling thousands of shocks of corn fodder and packing it along the dangerous places in the embankment.

The community is much alarmed. The water in the reservoir, which covers about 1,000 acres, is within a foot of the top of the embankment, and should a serious break occur the loss to property, and perhaps life, cannot be calculated. Reliefs of men and teams are being secured from all over that section of the country. A few years ago the embankment broke and flooded the country for miles around.

EX-GOV. STOCKLEY DEAD.

For Years He Was Prominent in Politics, Chiefly in Delaware.

Dover, Del., April 22.—Former Governor Charles C. Stockley, a picturesque figure in Delaware politics and formerly a Democratic state leader, died late Sunday night after a long illness, at his home in Georgetown. He was 82 years old and had served in public life since early manhood. He served as county treasurer, county sheriff and was twice elected to the state senate. During his second term in the legislature he was elected speaker of the senate.

In 1882 his party selected him as chief executive of the state. In 1896 he left the Democratic party on the money question and championed the gold Democratic cause, serving as presidential elector candidate. After this he passed into private life.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Black's Enterprise—William H. Black, of this city, has secured permission from Toronto council to operate a garbage wagon in that city.

Fancy Workers Entertained—Mrs. R. C. Herbert, of Seventh street, very pleasantly entertained the members of the Teachers' Fancy Work club, on Saturday afternoon.

To Marry in May—Jack Foley, of Steubenville, and Miss Henrietta Gilmore, of this city, will be married at the home of the bride on Second street on Monday, May 27. The contracting parties are well known in this city, where they will reside.

Prosecutor Failed to Appear—When the time arrived for a hearing in the case of George Waddell against Mack Stanley for assault and battery, set for trial in Justice McCarron's court, the prosecution failed to put in an appearance and the case was dismissed.

Rent Case in Court—The case of F. E. Grosshans versus Jesse Fisher, which was to have been tried in the court of Justice McLane this morning, has been continued until Wednesday at 1 o'clock. The suit was entered to recover judgment in the sum of $20, claimed due for rent.

Moving to Town—The household goods of Bert Allison, of Enon, Pa., and H. Gulton, of Salem, were received at the freight station Saturday.

Special Meeting Called—George Davidson and W. B. Hill spent Saturday duck hunting at Line Island and the president of their club has called a meeting for the purpose of hearing their troubles.

His Foot Was Crushed—James Tracy, a roller at the outbound platform of the freight station, met with a painful accident Saturday afternoon. He was engaged in placing a pair of skids in a car in order to roll casks, when they fell on his left foot, badly mashing it. He was taken to his home on Seventh street on a street car and will be unable to work for several days.

Walking Home From Bellaire—J. B. Maule, of the clerical force of the freight depot, went to Bellaire Saturday to spend Sunday with his parents. As the trains on the river division are not running, Mr. Maule was unable to get to the city today and it is reported that he left Bellaire at 12 o'clock on foot for this city and that he expects to be able to report for duty by Wednesday noon.

Y. M. C. A. Meetings—On account of the condition of the roads Evangelist Kaylor was unable to fill his appointment at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. After Bible reading by the secretary, the service was turned into a testimony meeting. The boys' band has grown to 27. It was decided to postpone Mr. McCoy's talk on "The Effect of Cigarette Smoking" to a later date, as the weather was so unpromising.

Nature's Crowning Work.

There were two engines attached to his train, but at Wellsville one of the heavy freight engines was also attached. But the conductor made a miscalculation, as he did not arrive in Cleveland until 6 o'clock yesterday morning, just in time for breakfast.

Word was received at the freight station Saturday night to put all freight in cars and haul it out of the way of the flood. Charley Brown acted as call boy and in a very short time the employees were on the scene and working like beavers. They worked until 12 o'clock when they repaired to the dining room of D. A. Devine on Second street, where a sumptuous repast was served. William Leech acted as toastmaster and Ticket Agent Hill ably responded.

FELL INTO THE STREAM

TWO EAST END SCHOOL CHILDREN NEARLY DROWNED.

Only Means of Crossing Dry Run Washed Away—Citizens Want Matter Remedied.

The small bridge at Dry run was washed away and two children who attempted to cross the stream came near being drowned. A child named Hill fell in the stream last night and was rescued with difficulty. She was badly strangled and may be laid up with grip or pneumonia as a result of the exposure. One of Hugh Clark's little girls fell in the water here Thursday night and has been unable to leave the house since.

Many of the pupils of Neville institute are unable to attend on this account, and the residents are very anxious that some means of crossing be provided at once.

WORST HE EVER HAD

A TRAVELING MAN'S EXPERIENCE ON A TRAIN.

Stuck in a Snowdrift for 15 Hours. Impromptu Entertainment Arranged.

A traveling man who was on passenger train No. 336, due here at 12:21 Saturday, and which was delayed almost 15 hours at Kensington by a snowdrift, in speaking of the matter this morning said:

"There was from five to 15 feet of snow on the track and the engine became buried in it before the engineer could stop. We had not been there long when a farmer and his son, who live near the railroad, appeared on the scene, and seeing our predicament, returned to the house and brought a large can of coffee and some lunch. We were very glad to get it, and a collection was taken up and the man handsomely rewarded. They were compelled to walk through snow up to their waist in order to reach the train.

"The time went terribly slow and having nothing else to do an entertainment was arranged. 'The Span of Life' company, which was to have played in your city Saturday night, was on the train and its members came first on the program. After they finished every man, woman and child that could either sing, dance or give a recitation was called on, and I can tell you we did enjoy ourselves, considering the situation. That was the worst I have experienced in 20 years of traveling and I never want to go through anything like it again."

The train arrived in this city at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning and Ticket Agent Hill was summoned to the office to ticket the theatrical company from this city to Oil City, Pa., where they show tonight.

SALEM AND LISBON WERE GREAT STORM CENTERS.

Snow Was 15 Inches to Two Feet on a Level And Drifts Enormous.

Salem perhaps fared as badly as any point in the country. There snow began falling Thursday night at 11 o'clock, following an all-day rain. Snow contained all through Friday, and Saturday morning the inhabitants awoke to find it 15 inches deep on a level. On the flats the snow drifted to a depth of six to twelve feet. Roofs at the nail mill and shops were in danger of falling in from the weight. Street

Where Was the Swindle?

"Ethel," said Lionel Bertram Jones as he dropped his slice of bread in the plate with a noise that set the canary in the gilt cage overhead chirping merrily. "Ethel, I have something to say to you."

They had been married only four weeks, and the time had not arrived when she did all the saying.

"Do you remember the day on which I proposed to you?"

"Yes," she replied. "I will never forget it."

"Do you remember," he went on as he abstractedly drilled a hole in the loaf with the point of a carving knife, "how when I rang the bell you came to the door with your fingers sticky with dough and said you thought it was your little brother who wanted to get in?"

"Yes."

"Oh, Ethel! How could you? How could you?"

"How could I what?" she responded as a guilty look crept into her face.

"How could you make me the victim of such a swindle?"—London Tit-Bits.

Just Making Sure.

An old farmer in Scotland once went to have a troublesome tooth extracted. Said the dentist after looking at the offending molar:

"It is a very ugly one. I would advise you to have it out by the painless system. It is only a shilling extra."

He showed the farmer the apparatus for administering gas, remarking that it would cause him to fall asleep for a minute, and before he awoke the tooth would be out. After a slight resistance the sufferer consented, proceeding to open his purse.

"Oh, never mind paying just now," said the dentist kindly.

cars stopped running at 6 o'clock Friday evening, the tracks being badly drifted. Half a dozen roofs were crushed.

The weight of snow which fell at Lisbon in 36 hours was unprecedented. It was two feet deep on a level. Trains were late. That on the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western was delayed about one hour by the collapse of a roof on one of the big buildings of the tile works, which was thrown over on the track with its weight of snow. Thirty-six feet of roof of the Palace Bowling Alley, on East Walnut street, which was erected only a month ago, collapsed. Part of the roof of Gaskell's livery stable, and that on Watson's livery stable, also collapsed. A portion of the roof on the residence of Frank Snyder broke in.

Sheriff Noragon saved the roof of the old jail and sheriff's residence by getting out the entire contingent of prisoners—a half dozen in number, and setting them to work clearing off the snow. The prisoners aided also in clearing the roof of the court house.

NOTHING LIKE IT

WAS EVER BEFORE SEEN AT ALLIANCE IN APRIL.

Streets Piled With Drifts Four to Six Feet High—The Sweep of the Storm.

Alliance, April 22.—In this city on Saturday all business was practically suspended. The streets were piled with snowdrifts from four to six feet high, rendering traffic impossible. Up to 2:30 p. m. not a train from east or west had come in over the Ft. Wayne railroad and but one over the C. & P., that being the down passenger train from Cleveland, due at 9:10 a. m. Cab lines, transfer and express wagons were tied up and few people were able to reach their places of business. The Adams Express wagon got stuck in a drift and was still standing there last evening. A freight wreck at Salem, in addition to the storm, delayed all trains on the main line.

The radius of the storm seemed to be from Mansfield on the west to East Palestine on the east, and along the line of the C. & P. from Bedford, 10 miles from Cleveland, to Salineville, on the south. There is no snow at Cleveland.

The oldest inhabitants never saw anything like it here in April.

JETHRO FARED BADLY.

Five Houses Were Partially Under Water And Other Families Moved.

At Jethro the residents fared badly from the high water. The houses of David Boyd, Thomas Spalding, Elmer Vandine, Michael Garvey and J. Smith were partially under water and the damage to each will be $50.

James Wright and A. Gray, of Jethro, expected the water to reach their residences and they moved up to the city.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 266.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, APRIL 22, 1901.

No Sunday Trains Were Run, and the River Division of the C. & P. is Still Tied Up—Street Cars Did Not Run From Saturday Night Until This Afternoon—Thousands of Dollars Required to Repair Expense of the Storm.

After reaching a stage of about 34 feet, the river became stationary at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and shortly afterward began to fall—slowly at first, but still perceptibly. By this morning the river had fallen 18 inches. At 1 o'clock today the river was 32 feet and falling slowly. Danger is believed to be over, but damage and annoyance must continue for days.

The Cleveland & Pittsburg river division will run no trains today. Trains are in operation between Pittsburg and Cleveland on schedule time. The telegraph lines are in a measure restored, and telephone service is again in partial operation.

The steam railroad, the street railway, the telephone companies and the potteries are the greatest flood sufferers. The high water means the loss of many thousands of dollars to each of these interests.

The rainfall, which began about noon on Thursday, continued incessantly—except when interrupted by snow—until 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when the skies began to brighten. Although East Liverpool fared badly, the snowstorm here was nothing as compared to what was experienced at Salem, Lisbon, Summitville and other points in the vicinity.

All Sunday trains on the C. & P. were discontinued. The Panhandle branch, on the Southside, practically inoperative since Friday, will not be restored to its normal condition for several days.

The worst annoyance today is the stopping of the pumps at the city water works until this afternoon at 3 o'clock, causing a practical suspension of all branches of industry which require a full supply of water.

Two large engines at the water works were started at 2:30 p. m. today and the superintendent announces that the manufactures will be amply supplied with water to run their boilers by tomorrow morning.

The street cars started to run about 2:15.

All the potteries of this city and Wellsville were closed today in the departments where power is used in operating.

The water did not reach a stage at which any great damage was done to the property along the river, although it required a vast amount of work on Saturday night and all of yesterday to prevent it.

At a majority of the river potteries the kilnmen and packers are working today, although they are handicapped to some extent.

All the river potteries and the French China plant at Klondike were partially closed down today.

There was considerable water in the basement of the Laughlin plant. The warehouse, packing shed and decorating department were kept running, and at the National plant sufficient wadding had been made to enable the kiln placers to set one kiln. It was thought that the Klondike plant would continue to run in full, as this company pumps its own water, and consequently was not affected by the city shutting off the water supply, as were the other plants. A large number of the employees of this plant live in the city proper and at Smith's Ferry. Those from the city were kept from work on account of the street cars not running, while those from Smith's

Revolvers, Cartridges and Knives Taken From the Eagle Hardware Establishment

Sam Dawson Appears to Have Been the Ringleader—Story Told By His Companions—Three Youthful Suspects in Custody.

Thieves broke into the Eagle Hardware store yesterday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock, and articles valued at between $35 and $40 taken.

The theft was not discovered until this morning, and Chief Thompson was at once notified. He had a well defined idea as to the identity of the thieves, and in a very short time the chief had the case well in hand. He arrested Fred Bradley and Sam Dawson on Sixth street early in the morning, and they were placed in jail.

Drexel Lowery learned of the arrest and came to the vicinity of city hall to have a few words with "Peg." Mayor Davidson heard the name and promptly took him in. He was brought into the mayor's office and questioned. When he had told his story there remained nothing to be done but hold a hearing, which was done this afternoon.

The story told by Lowery exonerated Bradley, and it is likely he will be released.

Lowery said that Sam had proposed that they go into the store and get a gun apiece. He studied for a few minutes and then consented to go. They gained an entrance through a basement window and made their way to a stairway, where a door was encountered. They broke a panel from the lower part of the door with a mattock and were thus enabled to go to the floor above. Ten revolvers and about a dozen knives, together with a quantity of cartridges, were taken. The booty was hid under a box car on the Horn switch, but a number of the articles were distributed among their friends on Sunday.

The youthful burglars are likely to get a trip to the reformatory, as the authorities have been greatly annoyed by them recently.

ACTION EXPECTED BY MANUFACTURING POTTERS.

No Time Likely to Be Lost in Arranging Conference With Brotherhood.

The Western Manufacturers' association will meet this evening in the Potters' club, and it is likely they will take some action looking to a conference with the Brotherhood. If the committee is appointed at the meeting tonight no time will be lost in getting together.

The Brotherhood officials have been taking matters easy for the past week, evidently presuming that the next was due from the other side, and consequently had nothing to say.

FEDERISH ON TRIAL.

Must Answer to the Charge of Assaulting Mike Baile at Walker's Works.

John Federish is being tried in the court of Justice McLane this afternoon on a charge of assaulting Mike Baile at Walker several weeks ago. Baile has been in a critical condition for some time, and Dr. Norris went to Walker this morning to ascertain his present condition.

Removed to Trenton.

Jere Delaney returned to Trenton, N. J., Saturday evening after a visit of several days with friends in this city. He was accompanied by Charles Woods, who has accepted a position in the pottery at Trenton.

CHARGED AGAINST ROY RINEHART BY AN AGENT.

He Drove a Carriage And His Fare Protested Against the Charge.

Roy Rinehart will get a hearing tonight before the mayor on a charge of assault and battery.

Frank Oberkrich, traveling salesman for the American Sewer Pipe company, arrived in the city last Friday, and hiring a carriage drove to the East End. When he returned in the evening he was accompanied by F. F. Anderson. It was the intention to go east on the evening train. Rinehart was driving the carriage and when he made known his charge to the agent there was some protest. Rinehart did not argue the point, but jumped from the box and proceeded to trim the sewer pipe man. He succeeded admirably, and he will accordingly be asked to pay a fine when he appears at police headquarters tonight.

PUZZLING PROBLEM

The Question of Increased Pay for Police Presents Difficulties.

One of the most difficult propositions which the new council has been called upon to consider is the question of an increase of the pay of the policemen.

Since Councilman McLane introduced the ordinance some three weeks ago, the matter has been discussed by all classes, and the conclusion arrived at that the increase should be granted, as it has been given out by several of the councilmen that the force would not be increased on account of the condition of the fund.

A resident who has been connected with municipal affairs for years is authority for the statement that if the police fund was devoted to the purpose for which it was intended the city could not only have an increased force, but could pay the $2.50 per day asked and have plenty of money to spare.

A prominent business man and heavy taxpayer said Saturday: "I appreciate the determination on the part of the council to conduct the affairs of the city in an economical manner, but I believe the police should have more money. We have an excellent set of policemen, and they do their duty."

It is likely the question will be disposed of at the next meeting of council.

JUDGE BOONE WILL HEAR METZGER CASE AGAIN.

Date for Rehearing May 1—Solicitor to Remain in Office. Court Notes.

Lisbon, April 22.—(Special.)—Judge Boone today rendered a lengthy decision in ruling on the application for a new trial in the case of Salem vs. Metzger. He granted the new trial and set the hearing for Wednesday, May 1, at 10 a. m. No order for removal from office was made.

William A. Tetlow, of Salem, wants judgment for $500 against L. H. and Lawrence Salsgiver, of that city. The defendants operate the Temperance Billiard Parlor on Main street and on January 24, while Tetlow was playing billiards, Salsgiver open a trap door behind him, which was unguarded. Tetlow stepped back and fell in, fracturing his left arm and has been unable to work since.

Marriage licenses have been granted to George E. Hamilton and Miss Cora Beam, of East Liverpool; Eli Handlin and Miss Martha E. Leslie, both of East Liverpool; John Matthews, of Niles, and Miss Maggie McCormick, of Lisbon.

The Damage at Wellsville.

Half a dozen families in the First ward of Wellsville had to move. The river division of the C. & P. is idle owing to a big washout at George's Run.

WRECK CAUSED BY EXPLOSION

Gasoline Let Go at the Diamond Hardware Company Store.

CAUSED AN EXCITING BLAZE

Damage to the Extent of $500 Resulted—The Cause of the Explosion a Mystery—Destructive Work in the Basement—Good Work of Firemen.

A gasoline explosion occurred at the Diamond Hardware store this morning. It was immediately followed by fire that threatened to assume dangerous proportions.

The explosion occurred in the rear of the basement, and in less than five minutes the smoke was so dense in every part of the house that it was almost impossible to go on with the work of fighting the fire.

Just how the accident occurred no one about the place is able to state, as those in charge of the store were all on the first floor when it happened, and the articles in the shop below are in such a confused mass just now that it is impossible to tell precisely where the blaze originated.

The building contains an elevator shaft that had been abandoned for some time, and was boarded roughly. The smoke had easy access to the upper portion of the building. The second story is used as a warehouse by the hardware company, the third floor is occupied by the families of Charles Pelton and Peter Devine, while Mrs. Mary Scott lives on the fourth floor.

The department made a remarkably quick run, and soon had two lines of hose playing on the fire, besides the Babcocks.

The smoke almost totally destroyed the contents of the upper floors, and the fire was so stubborn that it required almost an hour to extinguish it.

The loss will reach about $500, and is fully covered with insurance. The property was insured in the Niagara, Royal Exchange, Springfield, and North British and Mercantile companies, represented by the Hill company, McDole & Blazier and A. W. Scott. The loss will be adjusted at once.

ARRESTED BY NORAGON

CREDIT FOR THE CAPTURE OF STAUB PROPERLY PLACED.

The Report That the Prisoner Was Captured By Detective Moore an Error.

Regarding the arrest of Curtis Staub for the murderous shooting of Andrew Miller, near Bayard, the first report was the correct one. Staub was arrested by Sheriff Noragon. The News Review, in common with the other daily papers of this county, on Friday published the statement that Staub was arrested by Detective Moore, of the Pennsylvania company. This was published on the authority of a Lisbon correspondent, who was misinformed. Moore was present, and very willing to assist, but he did not make the arrest, nor does he desire to claim the credit for it. That belongs to Sheriff Noragon alone.

Deputy Sheriff Blick, who was given as the authority for the story that Moore arrested Staub, says he made no such statement, and his report of the matter agrees exactly with that which comes from the sheriff's office, corroborated by the statements from the prisoner and from the Miller family. The sheriff did his duty and showed great zeal and enterprise in running down the suspect. The News Review regrets that the error of its correspondent led to any misleading account of the affair.

Miller, according to reports received here, was still living Sunday, a bare chance for his recovery.

EAST END.

HIS SOLDIER BROTHER

Likes Soldiering in the Islands. Thinks the Guerrilla War Will Continue.

C. J. Goodballet has just received a letter from Charles Goodballet, his brother, who is in Company K, Seventeenth U. S. I., located at San Fernando, P. I. Mr. Goodballet states that he is in splendid health and likes soldiering in the islands more than ever. He thinks he will re-enlist when his present term expires, which will be in July of this year.

He thought the capture of Aquinaldo, since reported, would have little to do with the war there, and that there was just as much fighting at the time he wrote as there had been for many months before. He states that most soldiers hold the opinion that the guerilla warfare will continue for an indefinite length of time, as it has been carried for many years.

THE KAYLOR MEETINGS.

Large East End Audiences Hear the Evangelist.

Rev. A. H. Kaylor delivered an eloquent and masterly address to a well-filled house of men only at the Second U. P. church yesterday afternoon. He chose for his subject, "Is the Young Man Safe?" under which he discussed the various evils that beset the pathway of youth. His address was intensely practical and well received.

The evangelist preached both morning and evening to large audiences, and will continue his special meetings during the coming week. "Profit And Loss" will be the subject of his sermon tonight.

FIRST FREE LECTURE

Will Be Delivered on Thursday Night By Mr. Hard.

The series of free lectures, to be given at the Second M. E. church in the East End, will open on Thursday evening with a lecture by Charles T. Hard, of the Hard Furniture company, on "The Young Man in Business." He will treat of the character and qualities that lead to success in business life. The lecture will doubtless be well worth while listening to by young men and old.

Arrangements are in progress for other lectures. The topics and speakers will be duly announced.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Miss Maud Elliot is able to be out after a week's illness.

John Cartwright, Jr., is ill with the measles at his home in Helena.

William Kline, of Pleasants county, W. Va., is visiting at the home of his brother-in-law, C. J. Goodballet, in Helena.

Mrs. A. W. Day, who has been visiting during the past week at the home of her son, W. J. Day, will return to Corydon tomorrow morning.

George Beerman, Walter Wright and Sam Calhoun have accepted positions at Sebring, and will leave for that city Wednesday morning.

William Campbell and family, who have been visiting "Doc" Wright, of Dixonville, returned to their home at Hookstown, Pa., this morning.

George Arnold, who has been working in Philadelphia for the past six months, spent Sunday visiting his father in the East End. He left this morning for Glassport, Pa., where he will be employed in an electrical machine works.

Struck By a Train.

Steubenville, April 22.—Samuel Scott, of Hollidays Cove, W. Va., was struck by a westbound Panhandle passenger train last evening near Colliers station and sustained fatal injuries. He was brought to the railroad hospital here.

ORIGINAL M'KINLEY MAN

Appointed to the Governorship of the Territory of Oklahoma.

Washington, April 22.—Wm. M. Jenkins has just been appointed governor of Oklahoma territory, and is claimed to be "the original McKinley man." It is said his was the first McKinley vote cast at the Republican national convention of 1888, to which he was a delegate from Kansas. He removed to Oklahoma in 1893 and in 1897 was appointed secretary of the territory.

Mr. Jenkins was born at Alliance, O., in 1858, where he was reared and educated in the public schools and at Mount Union college. He is a graduate of the class of 1877. In 1880 he removed to Shelby county, Ia. He was admitted to the bar in 1883 and practiced law until 1884, when he removed to Arkansas City, Kan.

SALOON MEN MUST WAIT.

Judge Hole Will Not Decide the Screen Ordinance Case Until April 29.

Lisbon, April 22.—The business of the February term of court was completed Friday evening, and court adjourned. The May term will convene Monday, April 29.

Judge Boone has not decided when he will render his decision in the Metzger case.

Judge Hole will not give his decision in the screen ordinance case from East Liverpool until the opening day of the next term.

COAL DEAL COMPLETED.

A Million And a Quarter Paid for Belmont County Mines.

Bellaire, O., April 22.—On Saturday the Empire Coal company, of New York, closed a deal for 30,000 acres of coal land in Belmont county, and most of this has opening on the river. The sum paid is $1,250,000.

The purchase includes the mines of the Rose & Morgan Co., the Pittsburg and Ohio Coal company and the Alexander Neff mines. These mines are now in operation and employ about 1,200 men.

Dangerous Factories.

Not far from the heart of New York city is a factory for the manufacture of deadly poisons in quantities large enough to annihilate the entire population of New York. The factory is so guarded that even its next door neighbors need have no fear of it, but the possibilities stored there excite the imagination. No one may enter it without a special permit. The employees are all skilled men, well aware of the danger of the slightest carelessness. They manufacture, among other things, pure anhydrous acid, which is so dangerous that in its pure state it is not placed in the market. There is instant death in its fumes if they are permitted to escape. Nitric acid is stored in another part of the factory in big glass carboys. The men who work in this factory realize that a broken carboy of nitric acid would mean a disaster, and they treat it with the respect which it deserves. This factory and others like it are guarded more carefully than a safety deposit vault.—New York Sun.

When Bathing Was Rare.

In some old court memoirs of the eighteenth century which have recently been called again to attention it is stated that when George IV was a baby he was bathed only once a fortnight. That was thought to be plenty often enough in those days for a child to be washed. When one of George's little sisters had measles, the royal mother gave most careful instructions that the child's linen was not to be changed too soon, as she feared that some careless attendant would clothe it in garments insufficiently aired and so "drive in the rash." In those days people were much afraid of clean linen and bathing. It was believed the complete bodily ablutions were weakening, yet prince, peer and peasant alike called in at every ailment the doctors of the period, who bled them into a state of weakness and sometimes death.

Free Quarters For G. A. R. Men.

Cleveland, April 22.—Colonel James Hayes, chairman of the Grand Army standing committee on free quarters, announced that he and his colleagues of the committee had secured free quarters in school houses and halls for about 27,000 veterans at the encampment here, Sept. 9 to 14 next. Colonel Hays is now ready to receive applications for free quarters. He invites the same at earliest possible date and promises to take excellent care of Grand Army comrades who apply.

Governor Ross Was Inaugurated.

Victoria, B. C., April 22.—Alas! advises say Governor Ross was formally inaugurated at Dawson, April 12, and Governor Ogilvie stepped down and out. It is believed that the new chief executive will pursue a liberal policy, and business men of this city are much pleased with the prospects for the season under the new regime.

STRIKING THE RIGHT SPOT.

There come times to every life when a lack of strength—failing appetite—poor circulation—weak heart action and many other symptoms may break in. They are not diseases—the person may not be laid up until they have existed a long time. The influence of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills is to create nerve force, and immediately people find themselves getting well because nerve force controls every vital organ of the body.

Mr. W. S. Gaston, of No. 264 Fifth street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Owing to a functional or nervous trouble and an impaired digestion my heart action was weak and irregular. The condition was far from pleasant and I was induced to get a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills at Larkins' drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets. I am pleased that I did so, as the medicine has so strengthened the nervous system and digestion that the heart action is regular and strong and feel otherwise well and generally pleased with the result."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medical company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

RIVERS LAST NIGHT; PREDICTIONS FOR TODAY.

WASHINGTON, April 22. — The river situation at Pittsburg was somewhat relieved last night. At 10 a. m.,
after reaching a maximum stage of 27.5 feet, or 5.5 feet above the danger
line, the Monongahela river began to fall, and about 8 p. m. the stage was 25.9 feet, a fall of 1.6 feet since morning. The maximum stage reached in the Allegheny river was 28.6 feet.

Below Pittsburg the river was still rising. At Wheeling, W. Va., about noon, the river was 1.6 feet above the danger line of 30 feet and rising, and
an extreme high water stage of at least 4.3 feet was indicated during Monday.

At Parkersburg the stage about 7
p. m. was 40 feet, four feet above the
danger line, and a rise of three feet
since 8 a. m. A further rise to probably about 48 feet was expected during the 24 hours following.

Below Parkersburg the Kanawha,
Big Sandy and Scioto were sending
out their flood volumes and at noon
the Ohio between Point Pleasant, W.
Va., and Cincinnati was rising one-
half to one foot an hour, and rapidly
approaching or passing the danger
line at all points. At Cincinnati, about 7 p. m., the stage of the river was 42.4 feet, with every indication that the danger line of 50 feet would be reached or exceeded by about Monday
noon.

It was still raining or snowing over
the upper Ohio valley, and therefore impossible to accurately predict the
time or the height of the flood crests
below Parkersburg, however, it was expected, the danger lines would be passed at all stations above Cincinnati during last night, and still higher
stages prevail during Monday. Point Pleasant, W. Va., at 7 p. m., already reported a stage of 47 feet, or eight feet above the danger line, due to the Kanawha river flood waters. Below
Cincinnati the Ohio will also rise rapidly during the next few days, and all preparations should be made for a dangerous flood.

THE WATERS RECEDING

Pittsburg, April 22.—Pittsburg and Allegheny will be fairly out of the clutches of the flood by this evening.
All day yesterday the waters which
have surrounded them and in places
overflowed, causing damage and discontent, slowly retreated.

The retreat was very slow indeed.
All day and all last night the waters
fell only a few inches an hour. But
the fall was decided, and today it will be more rapid unless there should be

a sudden and very great fall of rain
at the headwaters.

Even if this should occur, it was
not believed that the rivers will again
rise to the height which they reached
yesterday morning.

Shortly before last midnight the stage of water at Davis Island dam
was 24 feet and falling at the rate of one-tenth of an inch an hour. At Lock No. 1 it was 26 feet and falling
two inches an hour. At Herra island
it was 26 feet and falling three inches
an hour.

At all three of the dams a continuous fall was looked for and that the fall would become more rapid with
be more than 22 feet of water in the harbor by this evening.

At all points the receding of the flood began soon after it reached its highest point. This was 29½ feet at Lock No. 1 shortly after 6 o'clock
yesterday morning, 28½ feet at Herra
island at 3 o'clock in the morning, and 25 feet and 9 inches at Davis island
about 9 o'clock in the morning. The water was practically stationary longest at Davis island, where it stood
at about the figure named from 5
o'clock in the morning until 9, when
it began very slowly to go down.

The day in Pittsburg and Allegheny was not marked by any sensational events. The waters did not rise high enough to occasion great
suffering, and the most serious consequences will be the suspension of
work at industrial establishments on
the river front. This is likely to be longest in the Lawrenceville district
and in lower Allegheny, the upper Southside not being greatly effected.
An estimate is that 15,000 men were temporarily deprived of employment.

The following deaths were reported:
Mrs. Mary Patterson, aged 80 years,
of River avenue, Allegheny, whose
death is alleged to excitement caused
by the water surrounding her house.
Unknown woman, whose body was said to have been found near Wood-
ville.

The following railroads were crippled Saturday: Pennsylvania lines,
southwest system (Panhandle); Pittsburg, Chariers and Youghiogheny;
Baltimore and Ohio; Pittsburg and Lake Erie; Allegheny Valley; Pennsylvania lines, northwest system (Ft.
Wayne); Pittsburg and Castle Shannon; Pittsburg and Western; Pennsylvania railroad.

The monetary loss cannot be estimated, but may amount to millions.
Dozens of manufacturing plants are
work.

COAL MINES FILLED,

RAILROADS SUFFERED.

The damage incurred by the river
coal company Saturday was the flooding along the Monongahela river. The mines will have to be pumped out,
which will require much time and labor. Railroads running between the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela
rivers were great sufferers. A landslide on the Panhandle division of the Pennsylvania suspended traffic on
that division Sunday, while one at Copper Works station, on the Baltimore and Ohio, caused a suspension
of traffic for many hours, and after much work one track was opened. Reports from all surrounding towns Sunday were to the effect that the damage was great and flood general.

Every railroad entering the city on Sunday suffered from trouble of some kind, including landslides, washouts, snowfalls and inundations, causing dangerous obstructions to traffic and
graph lines.

The borough of Carnegie was practically inundated Sunday and the damage done in this thriving little borough will reach thousands of dollars.

Flood and landslides did great damage in Homestead and vicinity Sunday. The Second avenue street railway was tied up most of the day by severe landslides in West Homestead,
just above the Mesta Machine company. Several tons of stuff came down from the hillside. A force of men was at once called from the Glenwood car barns and it was late
in the afternoon before the tracks
were cleared. In the meantime passengers had been transferred.

AT HOMESTEAD.

Little damage was done in Homestead proper except by the flooding
of the streets. The sewers in the town have proven several times lately
to be inadequate to handle the water
that comes down, and yesterday the
streets were filled with water during
the morning, which filled a number of cellars.

Up West run, in West Homestead,
a score of houses were flooded by the
creek becoming dammed and turning
the water into the street.

New Castle, Pa., April 22.—This
city was storm-swept Sunday and all business was practically suspended.

THE APRIL FLOOD.

The April flood is subsiding and everybody along the river breathes easier. Although much damage has been done, it might have been worse. That is the only consolation, but there is much cause for thankfulness in it. Business of all sorts has been seriously interrupted, and the railroad companies, telephone companies and pottery owners have sustained damages that it will cost them many thousands to repair. But there have been no fatalities and no very serious accidents. Baseless stories have been telegraphed abroad of "a hundred families homeless" in the West End—thus depopulating Jethro—but these were to be expected. The "special" fiend does not need a flood to set him to lying; he is at it every day. It will take days to repair the damage and restore telephone, street car lines and the steam railroad to their former condition. But the warning given on Friday and Saturday had its effect, and was the means of averting greater destruction. Everybody was expecting a flood and was prepared for it.

NIGHT WORK FOR PLANTS.

Nature intended that plants, like animals, should sleep at night. They have been following that fashion for centuries. Now some enterprising experimenters of the department of agriculture propose to get them out of it and double the wheat crop and other sorts of crops. Experiments carried on at several agricultural stations are said to prove that plants can be made to work and grow at night, and the vegetable creature which suspends activity for sleep and race may soon become a back number. Light, as well as air, soil and water, is essential to plant growth. It was discovered a few years ago that the illumination of gardens at night by electric light will keep plants awake and growing, and it seems they are deceived into believing the day continues. Plants thus treated grow much faster and develop much earlier than others allowed their "every night off." The government is now commencing a series of experiments to learn whether Welsbach gas lamps cannot also be used as substitutes for the sun. It is also growing plants in soil actually fertilized by electricity, and learning that such treatment also hastens plant growth.

Farmers long since learned that vegetables could be raised out of season, but the necessary equipments of a hot house are too costly to prevent the general adoption of this method. It is probable that a similar obstacle will stand in the way of the success of the new experiment. For, although most farmers believe in diversified crops, very few of them include electric light plants among the plants they raise.

can be returned directly to the writer and not sent to the dead letter office. The importance of having all letters so marked is duly appreciated by business men, and no man who writes many letters now fails to have his business card, or at least his address printed on the corner of the envelope—unless he is in some business he is ashamed of.

The plan is not only a good one for the postoffice department, but for the letter-writer as well. His printed name and address are before the recipient of the letter, who, in answering it, can make no mistake in either. Then, if the writer forgets to sign his name—as letter-writers not infrequently do—there is the letter-head to explain where and whom the missive is from.

Farmers are beginning to see the advantage of using printed stationery. It looks well, is business-like, and gives the recipient, if a stranger, a better impression of the writer. Buying letterheads and envelopes in lots of 500 or 1,000 each, the cost of printing is so little that it will be actual economy to use the printed form, rather than to buy paper and envelopes in small bunches at retail prices. It is an idea worthy of general adoption.

East Liverpool is once more on the map. Two days of isolation from the world helped to show that our own resources are great enough to be more appreciated than they commonly are. Still, it is a satisfaction to be in touch once more with the great world beyond our borders.

If the Filipinos will now be good we are willing to accept Aguinaldo's word for it that he has some influence with them.

Aguinaldo is no longer a Bryan Democrat, but a man of peace.

Inconsistent.

"You are a most inconsistent woman," said Henpeck, turning at last.

"I am, eh?" she retorted. "How?"

"You insist upon having and using only the most expensive things, and yet—"

"Well? You certainly never objected to that?"

"No, but do be consistent. Don't use so much talk. It's cheap."—Philadelphia Press.

Swindled.

"The saddest, most blighted life case I ever knew," said the major, "was that of a man who received a life pass over a new railroad."

"How was that?" asked the colonel.

"Why, the pass was issued before there was a rail laid, and then the road was never built. He has felt swindled ever since."—Indianapolis Press.

The Galloping White Hearse.

It was in the dark of the evening, and the streets were thronged with men and women on their way home at the end of the day's work. At Thirty-fourth street, where Broadway and Sixth avenue cross with a network of tracks, the usual clangor of gongs, the shouts of newsboys and the roar of the elevated trains filled the air, while myriad electric lights sparkled like so many stars.

Suddenly out of the gloom came a little white hearse, being driven rapidly home. Its sad day's work was over, and the little horses were probably anxious for their dinner. Still it gave one a shock to see them galloping so. Even more pathetic it looked when empty than with its precious little burden. The very emptiness spoke of the vacant little chair at home, the unused toys, the un worn frocks folded away for some woman to cry over on a rainy day.

Fathers hurrying home to their own little ones felt a sudden lump in the throat, mothers leading their children grasped the little hands with a quick access of tenderness, and a strange, sad sense of loneliness came to the heart of the passerby who had no child to lose. Just a little white hearse, seen only for a moment in the gathering darkness by the hurrying throng, but what a world of pathos it suggested!—New York Mail and Express.

Artificial Legs.

The most lifelike and serviceable artificial legs in the world are manufactured in America. Enormous quantities of these limbs are shipped to Europe every year.

The first great boom in the artificial leg business was brought about by the civil war. Since that time railroad and trolley car accidents have kept up an ever increasing demand. Another factor has been the general use of antiseptics. The mortality among those who have their legs amputated is far less than formerly, and a large proportion of the survivors become patrons of the wooden leg factories.

The old fashioned peg leg is practically a thing of the past. The modern artificial leg shows a great advance over the old forms. Every improvement has been with the idea of greater simplicity.

The main object of the manufacturers is to improve the fit of the legs. The best models now cost $100. It costs from $5 to $25 a year to keep one of these in order.

Few women wear artificial legs. On the other hand, it is becoming more common to fit limbs to children. Legs are made for children sometimes before they can walk. They are fitted as soon as the child learns to stand and make it possible for it to develop symmetrically.

Hygienic.

"It should be!" rejoined the poet, with dignity. "I am always extremely careful to boil my Pierian spring water before drinking, or, rather, quaffing it!"—Detroit Journal.

Must Have Had Experience.

When Dr. Thompson, a distinguished Scotch clergyman, was minister of Markinch, he happened to preach from the text, "Look not upon the wine when it is red in the cup," from which he made a most eloquent and impressive discourse against drunkenness, stating its evil effects on the heart, head and purse. Several of his observations were leveled at two cronies with whom he was well acquainted who frequently poured out libations to the rosy god. At the dismissal of the congregation the two friends met, the doctor being close behind them.

"Did you hear, Johnnie?" quoth the one.

"Did I hear't? What didna hear't? I ne'er winked an e'e the hall sermon."

"Aweel, an what thought ye o't?"

"Adeed, Davie, I think he has been a lad in his day, or he couldna sea weel about it. Ah, he's been a sleet hand, the meenister."—Kansas City Independent.

An Aerial Anchorage.

On last bank holiday a fete and gala was held in a country town. A balloon ascent was the chief feature of the day's amusements, and the process of filling the balloon with gas was watched with great interest by a crowd of country bumpkins, one of whom cast his eye upon the grappling iron in perplexity.

"Wot be that, Goggles?" quoth he to a companion.

"Whoy, that be the anchor," answered Giles.

"Anchor!" repeated the first bumpkin in even greater perplexity than before.

"Wot use be an anchor to 'em up in the air? Wot can they anchor 'er to?"

"To the clouds, o' course!" replied Giles in tones expressive of scorn for his mate's ignorance.—London Answers.

Frozen Butterflies.

It is a common experience among mountain climbers to find butterflies lying frozen on the snow and so brittle that they break unless they are very carefully handled. Such frozen butterflies on being taken to a warmer climate recover themselves and fly away. Six species of butterflies have been found within a few hundred miles of the north pole.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Easily Explained.

A Glasgow cabby once had as a fare an Inverness minister and his wife. He had to drive them through the poorer districts of the city, and on reaching their destination the minister, at the same time handing cabby his legal fare, asked:

"Why are there so many poor people in this city, cabman?"

Jehu looked hard at the parson for a minute before he replied:

"Well, sir, I'm no verra sure; but, ye see, maist o' the poor folk drive cabs, and tips are scarce here."—London Answers.

No Joke In That.

"You Americans," said the London young man as he stopped sucking his cane, "are always insinuating that we Englishmen don't know what a real joke is. Now, just hold your sides while I go over this one which I read in a home paper a week ago:

"The Countess—M'lord, you were at the grand dinner last night, were you not? Just awhile ago I heard one of those vulgar Americans make the remark that this morning you had a big head."

"The Duke—But, m'lady, there's nothing in it."

The American looked as sober as a criminal court judge.

"Well?" he asked.

"Don't you see," explained the disgusted Britisher, poking the other in the ribs with his cane, "the countess says some one accused her companion (ha!) of having a big head (ha, ha), and he declares (p-ah, ha) there's nothing in it!"

"Yes, but—"

"Blasted idiocy, but what?"

"Her companion was a duke."

"Yes."

"And not any different from the rest of the English nobility?"

"No. But the joke, the joke! It is so adroitly put. In apparent inadvertence (desperately) the duke admits there is nothing in his head! Now, do you see?"

"Well, it's a little strange that the duke could make such a frank and candid admission, but—where does the joke come in?"—Brooklyn Life.

Anecdotes of Evarts.

One summer when William M. Evarts was at his country home in Windsor, Vt., a farmer who had followed his political career in the newspapers for many years was extremely anxious to see him in the flesh and drove 18 miles into town in order to catch a glimpse of his idol.

Senator Evarts at that time was being entertained constantly, dining out almost every night, and as he drove out of his grounds to an appointment one evening the farmer was lying in wait for him in the road. The latter, seeing the pale, ascetic face and meager form of the famous statesman, was disappointed.

"Well, I declare," he exclaimed, "looks as if he'd always boarded!"

An impromptu riddle is attributed to him here at his country place. One day in presiding at table with a swarm of grandchildren about him he asked, "What is the difference between this goose before dinner and me after?"

After much futile guessing he said in quiet glee:

"Now the goose is stuffed with sage, and then the sage," pointing to himself, "will be stuffed with goose."—Home Journal.

FOUR MEN RAISED BIG DISTURBANCE

They Were Unwelcome Visitors
at the Boyer Home on Second Street.

Flatirons, Clubs And Kitchen Utensils
Were Used And the Intruders Badly
Punished—The Latter Made a
Hasty Escape And Were Arrested.

The superabundance of water in town on Saturday night did not prevent the usual number of lusers from indulging in something stronger, and the mayor's docket this morning showed that the police had not been idle over Sunday.

Officers Aufderheide, Morris and Davidson were assigned to look after Second street on Saturday night, and their duties until almost midnight consisted principally of answering the hundred and one questions which the people who were directly or indirectly affected by the flood, put to them.

They left the "Row" at 11:40 and on the way up the hill they encountered a crowd making their way to the lower part of town, and from their appearance and condition the officers had a well defined idea as to how the party would wind up.

The crowd consisted of James Ward, better and more commonly known as "Big Ike, of Klondike"; Tom Davis and "Billy" Rolley. They were joined a little later by John O'Malley and the quartet proceeded to the vicinity of the old opera house.

They all seemed to think of the same thing at once, and went up the stairs to the second story, where are quartered a family named Boyer. They proposed to enter and spend a while whether the occupants were agreeable or not. They were not, and that is how it all came about.

The Boyers paid the rent and proposed to defend the place against any and all intruders. Then followed an old-fashioned Second street scrap, in which flat irons, clubs, stove lids, chairs, poker, and as a last resort, fists played a prominent part.

The Boyers and their friends had the best end of the argument at first, and drove the four men down the hall until they were cornered. They were pummeled and cuffed until they looked as though they had jumped from the fourth story widow, but finally concluded they must fight their way to liberty or they would not get out at all. This was a more difficult proposition than they had calculated upon, as forces on the other side had increased steadily from other parts of the building. They finally succeeded in breaking through the line and made their escape down the stairs.

Meanwhile no less than 200 people had gathered in the hall and about the building to watch the fun. O'Malley, who was the last man out, had a badly discolored optic where it had come in contact with a stove lifter, and it will take careful treatment to preserve the sight.

The agitators succeeded in escaping, but were picked up today by Officers Davidson, Aufderheide and Morris and instructed to appear this evening to answer a charge of disorderly conduct by fighting.

Naming the White House.

Why is the president's mansion at Washington called the White House? It has been so called for years and years, and now no one thinks of using any other name, although "executive mansion" is the official term. The name White House is a reminder of the second war with England. Aug. 24, 1814, the British army captured Washington and burned the public buildings, the president's mansion being among those to suffer. It was damaged to some extent, and to hide the fire stains it was painted white, and white it has been painted every year or two since.

The home of Washington's mother was called the "white house," and this may have suggested the name, but the fact that the mansion was so assiduously painted white after the war of 1812 doubtless brought the term into popular use.

SOUTH SIDE.

THE DAMAGE IN CHESTER

RAILROAD WILL BE TIED UP SEVERAL DAYS.

Some Families Had to Move—Store Goods Taken to Places of Safety.

Chester suffered much damage. In the upper part of town John Martin and Reese Coon were the only ones who were obliged to remove their families and furniture upstairs. Many cellars were filled with water. In the lower part of town Joe Hobbs moved his family from his house, but the water did not quite reach the first floor. The Allison Grocery company removed a large amount of store goods from its cellar, but the water did not reach there. The bank in front of Shrader's residence was slightly damaged.

The filling back of the basement walls on the bridge across the railroad at Second street was washed to a considerable extent. The roads leading into Chester are all in very bad condition.

On the railroad traffic cannot be resumed for three or four days.

MISSING 20 YEARS

BENJ. BOODY BACK AFTER BEING MOURNED AS DEAD.

Came From Wyoming Where He Has Amassed a Comfortable Fortune.

Benjamin Boody, of Carbon county, Wyoming, is visiting friends in Chester and East Liverpool. Mr. Boody was formerly a resident of East Liverpool and is well known among the older residents. He resided on Second street and was employed as a teamster at Croxall's pottery. He disappeared from this city 20 years ago and his friends, who were unable to learn anything of his whereabouts, had long believed him to be dead.

His case was remembered as one of those mysterious disappearances that frequently occur and his friends were greatly surprised when he turned up in this locality Sunday. He had worked in the copper mines of Wyoming during the entire 20 years, and has amassed a comfortable fortune. He has not decided as to whether he shall return to Wyoming. His daughter, Miss Maggie Boody, has resided in Chester for several years. He is also related to William Croxall, who resides in Chester.

BROKE HIS ARM

Serious Accident to Eph Johnson, a Kilmhand, This Morning.

A broken arm and a dislocated and badly bruised wrist is the result of an accident that happened to Eph Johnson, who resides on California avenue, while he was drawing kiln at Thomas' knob factory in East Liverpool this morning. Mr. Johnson had just opened a new kiln. William Johnson, who was stationed at the top of the kiln, had just reached Eph Johnson two sappers of ware when he slipped and fell with his full weight on the two sappers of ware in Eph Johnson's hands. Mr. Johnson's arm was caught between this ware and the other sappers near the bottom, with the result stated. The wound was exceedingly painful, but Mr. Johnson reset the bone in its proper place without assistance. He then made his way to Dr. Toot's office, where the dislocated wrist was replaced and the lacerated member dressed. He will be unable to resume work for several weeks.

Judgment for Plaintiff.

The case of Mack Johnson versus George Sheckler was heard by Johnson Saturday at 4 o'clock p. m. The plaintiff claimed $190 due as royalty on a coal mine. The justice gave judgment for the plaintiff for $37.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

Once a week or oftener the NEWS REVIEW will publish a department of lodge news. Officers and members of the various orders are invited to contribute. The name and address of the writer must accompany every communication.

Youngstown Elks have let the contract for their new building to Arthur G. Young and the price is $41,675. This bid does not include the plumbing and decorating. Mr. Young, the successful bidder, is a Youngstown man and a contractor of conceded merit and ability. Work on the new building will commence at once, it being Mr. Young's intention to break ground just as soon as he can get his men together and the work will be pushed to successful conclusion as rapidly as possible and in keeping with the best possible workmanship. It is the hope and present plans of the Elks to be in their new building on December 1.

The Odd Fellows, at their meeting tonight, will confer the second degree upon one candidate, and transact other important business.

The Elks, at their meeting Thursday evening, transacted routine business and initiated one new candidate.

Ohio Valley Council No. 23, O. U. A. M., initiated two candidates at their meeting Thursday night.

Morning And Evening Services Full of Interest.

Both the morning and evening services at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday were remarkably well attended in view of the inclement weather. Rev. Dr. McKinley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Steubenville, was engaged to preach in the absence of the pastor; but he telephoned on Saturday that on account of the high water and the interruption of train service, he would be unable to reach here.

Rev. Charles Swan, a returned missionary from China, occupied the pulpit in the morning and Rev. W. E. Hill in the evening. Mr. Swan's subject was the responsibility of Christianity for the spread of the gospel, and Mr. Hill's the excellency of the knowledge of Christ. Both sermons were well received, and the day's services were unusually interesting and profitable.

The Tobacco Taste.

"Even the best judges of tobacco can't always be depended on," remarked a dealer to a reporter recently. "Sometimes their taste goes back on them, so to speak, and remains blunted for a week at a stretch. One of my customers, for instance, is a well to do merchant, who is very particular about his cigars and one of the few real connoisseurs in town. When he is in good form, he can tell more about tobacco on a superficial examination than anybody I know, with the single exception of a dealer who has a big reputation as an expert. About a month ago this gentleman began to complain about a favorite brand of very high class cigars. I knew the goods were all right and advised him to buy something else for awhile. He finally began smoking a pipe and used a cheap cut plug that he declared was the best smoke he ever tried. One day, all of a sudden, his taste returned, and he went back to the cigars. At present the bare smell of cut plug will make him sick. Strange, isn't it? They tell me that the professional samplers of tobacco take a week off every few months and never look at the weed until they return to duty. In that way they keep in condition."—Washington Star.

Tapioea.

This elegant and delicate starch is the product of a plant that is cultivated very extensively in the Malay peninsula, where its culture is almost entirely in the hands of the Chinese. The tubers of the plant (Manihot utilisima), which weigh on an average from 10 to 25 pounds, are first scraped and then carefully washed, after which they are reduced to a pulp by being passed between rollers. This pulp is carefully washed and shaken up with abundance of water until the fecula separates and passes through a very fine sieve into a tub placed beneath. The flour so obtained is repeatedly washed and then placed on mats and bleached by exposure to the sun and air. It is finally converted into the pearl tapioca of commerce by being placed in a crude shaped frame covered with canvas. It is slightly moistened and subjected to a rotary motion, by which means it is granulated. It is next dried in the sun and finally over the fire in an iron pan greased with vegetable tallow and is then ready for the market.

When Booth Laughed.

William Mestayer, the comedian, once said: "I never saw Edwin Booth laugh heartily but once. We were playing 'Julius Caesar' at Baldwin's in Frisco. Booth was Brutus, McCullough was Cassius, Harry Edwards was Caesar and Charley Bishop and I were plain, everyday citizens. It was the last night of the run, and we all felt frisky. So when Caesar spoke the well known line, 'Let me have men about me that are fat,' Bishop and I, both fat men, walked boldly up to Caesar and shook him heartily by the hand. It broke Booth all up, and he laughed outright."

No Difference Perceptible.

Jones—Very stupid girl, that Miss Wilpin.

Smith—How so?

"Why, you see, we were guessing conundrums the other evening, and I asked her what was the difference between myself and a donkey."

"Well?"

"Well? Why, by Jove, she said she didn't know!"

"Well, as far as that goes, I don't either."—London Answers.

big steel mill was also forced to stop work, as the water drowned out the fires.

Canton, O., April 22.—Snow, which began to fall, resulted in almost a suspension of business here Saturday. Local passenger No. 43, west-bound, on the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago, was stalled two miles west of this city.

There were 25 passengers on board. Some of the men worked their way to a farm house and secured food. Two shifting engines sent to its relief were ditched, and an eastbound freight was snowbound near the passenger.

A passenger train on the Carrollton branch of the Wheeling and Lake Erie was tied up near Osnaburg. All trace was lost of a northbound Cleveland Terminal and Valley passenger train about 10 miles south and engines were sent from here to hunt for it.

DANGER LINE EXPECTED

AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, O., April 22.—There was alarm throughout the Ohio valley Sunday on account of the floods. Most of the inhabitants of the valley spent last night in anticipation of the worst flood ever known in the valley, as some would not know until today the water had begun falling at Pittsburg. Until this news reached the river men here last night, it was feared that the record of 1884 might be broken, but now it is generally believed that the river will not exceed the floods of February, 1897, and of March, 1898, when it reached 61 feet at Cincinnati. The present flood is the worst that has ever been known so late in the spring. The first week in April, 1886, the river reached 56 feet and 9 inches in this city, and that was the highest water ever known so late in the spring. There has been no flood in the Ohio valley since March, 1898, and these floods have rarely occurred as late as March, usually in February. The flood will do much more damage now than it would have done one or two months ago. While the close observing river men last night were confident that the record of 1884 will not be broken unless another mountain flood soon reaches Pittsburg, yet it was evident that much damage will be done before the present rise is exhausted. While the water had begun to fall at Pittsburg, both rain and snow had been falling heavily Saturday night and Sunday and last night in the Ohio valley. The danger line had already been reported at points above Cincinnati, and it might be reached here today. The merchants and manufacturers in the lower part of the city had been working Sunday and Sunday night, preparing for the worst. The Sunday excursion season was to have started here Sunday, but navigation was stopped because the boats could not pass under the bridges.

IN THE OHIO VALLEY.

Early last evening the bureau here announced heavy snows and rains along the Ohio valley, especially in Southern Ohio. The uniform rise during the day was four-tenths of a foot per hour, but the average was higher last night. The weather bureau announced that the danger line had been reached at all sub-stations last night and that it would be reached in Cincinnati today about noon. The stage was 44 feet and 7 inches at 6 o'clock here last night and the danger line is 50 feet. At Point Pleasant the stage was eight feet above the danger line last night, with the river rising rapidly and a heavy rain. The mayor of Portsmouth, O., telegraphed that the danger line had been reached there, and that a heavy snow was falling last night. Similar reports had been received at the weather bureau from points in Southern Ohio, and as far north as Springfield. Owing to the general prostration of telegraph and telephone wires it was impossible to hear from many points. The trains were late on the railroads, and some trains that were due Saturday night from the east had not yet arrived last night. It was generally believed that the fruit crop throughout the Ohio valley was gone and the damage to crops was very great.

Maysville, Ky., April 22.—The residents of Front street, in this city, began moving upstairs Sunday afternoon on account of the high water. The Ohio river has risen 11 feet since Sunday evening, rising about three and a half inches per hour. The government gauge registered about 47 feet at 7 p. m. A blinding snow storm was raging in the afternoon. Trains from the east were from about four to six hours late.

WHEELING ISLAND

SUFFERED BADLY.

Wheeling, April 22.—The flood reached the very highest stage here. Last night a Wheeling island man fired at the packet Keystone State and at a passing towboat, but without effect. In Wheeling, Bellaire, Bridgeport, Benwood and Martins Ferry about 500 houses have been entered by the water, most of the families moving to upper floors. Nearly every establishment in the Wheeling district is shut down and cannot resume until Tuesday. At Martins Ferry the water destroyed about 500,000 brick of the Belmont Brick company, entailing a loss of about $20,000 to about $30,000. There were smaller losses at other plants, aggregating probably about $40,000. Taking the loss of business, railroad landslides and industrial losses, the aggregate cost of the flood in this district may be at least about $100,000, probably more.

Above Martins Ferry, James Ford, a miner, discovered the Cleveland and Pittsburg track washed out. Knowing a north bound passenger train was due in about 30 minutes, he returned a part distance and succeeded in stopping the train a few yards from certain destruction. The Ohio River railroad had a number of landslides and considerable washedout track below Wheeling, involving a big loss and suspension of traffic, probably for several days. On the Baltimore and Ohio Wheeling-Pittsburg division there was a landslide at Claysville, preventing through traffic between the two cities. There will be much distress in the district, most of the losers by the flood being the poorer classes.

United States Senator N. B. Scott wired the Intelligencer from Washington, contributing $500 for relief.

Section Director E. C. Vose, of the Parkersburg signal station, wired last night predicting about 48 feet at Parkersburg, and said the later rains at headwaters might bring out a second rise on top of the present flood stage. This, however, was believed to be on the alarmist order. Much timber was lost in the Little Kanawha river.

A report from Marietta, O., that a number of people had been drowned near that place was without confirmation.

GRADUALLY SUBSIDED.

Cleveland, April 22.—The fierce storm of wind and snow that swept over this city and Northern Ohio, throughout Saturday and Saturday night gradually subsided Sunday. It was followed last night by a fog so dense that it was almost impossible to see from one side of the street to the other. Notwithstanding the heroic efforts of the telegraph and telephone companies to repair their prostrated lines there has thus far been little improvement to the service. Not a single wire was working on any direct route between this city and Buffalo or Pittsburg last night. Throughout the day big gangs of men had been at work on the various lines resetting poles and stringing wires. Every available man had been pressed into service by the several companies, and while the repair work was progressing rapidly, it will perhaps be several days before direct communication with points east of Cleveland is fully re-established.

Trains on practically all roads entering the city continued to arrive from one to three hours behind schedule time. This was especially true in regard to the lines from the east. The fact that there were no wires to facilitate the movement of trains was responsible to a large extent for the delay to traffic. A number of suburban electric lines, running east and south from this city were still tied up.

Traffic on the city street car lines continued to be badly crippled Sunday as a result of a deep snow and slush on the tracks. So heavy is the snow and slush in many places that the most powerful sweepers are stalled in it.

A large section of the city was cut off from communication by wire with fire headquarters. Some fire alarm boxes were out of service and seven fire department stations were without telegraph or telephone communication as a result of the general prostration of wires.

about 75 years ceased. The Ohio passed the danger line of 50 feet and was still rising 3.9 inches an hour, with the Guyandotte, Big Sandy, Tug and Twelve Pole also rising rapidly at all points. Fully 10 feet more water was expected here. The Kanawha Great damage resulted throughout the southern and central portions of the state. There was much suffering among people compelled to seek quarters in the hills along the Guyandotte and Twelve Pole. There was heavy suffering at Catlettsburg, Cere, Central City, Dingess, Dunlow, Barboursville and many smaller towns. Owing to the wires being down it was almost impossible to learn the situation in the interior counties, but judging by the debris in all the rivers it is evident great damage has resulted.

Youngstown, O., April 22.—Snow here brought traffic of all kinds nearly to a standstill Saturday. The railroads leading into and out of the city were badly crippled, many trains being hours behind time. Telephone and telegraph wires were broken down by the weight of the snow, and the city was cut off from outside communication for a period of 10 hours. The street car service was completely abandoned all over the city, the snow being so heavy the snow plows could not be operated. Several small buildings and barns collapsed from the weight of snow.

THE CONNOQUEENESS

CREEK OVERFLOWED.

Butler, Pa., April 22.—A steady fall of rain since Thursday afternoon had swollen the Connoqueeness creek Sunday until it overflowed its banks and flooded half a hundred families out of their homes. The channel of the creek was partly filled with waste sand from the Standard plate glass works, and the stream was dammed and narrowed at places by bridges and fills of the Bessemer railroad. This increased the spread of the flood. In this city, Race, West Shore, Willow and parts of Pillow, Jefferson and Broad streets were inundated.

Beaver Falls, Pa., April 22.—The incessant rains caused Walnut run, which flows through the western part of this place, to overflow its banks Sunday and do much damage to manufacturing plants and residences. The Beaver river was higher than it has been for many years, and is doing much damage to the Pittsburg and Lake Erie and Erie and Pittsburg railroads.

MANHATTAN INSURANCE.

Official Examination Shows Serious Impairment.

Chicago, April 22.—A New York special to the Western Underwriter says: The report of the examination of the Manhattan Fire Insurance company by the New York department was made public and shows an impairment of $489,703, the impairment of December 31 last being $245,649. It is said that the statement of the company, filed with the department, was false in many particulars. A bad state of affairs is thus revealed.

The department throws out $100,000 from the assets, it being a mortgage loan on unimproved Staten Island property. The aggregate assets are $772,845. The liabilities are $762,548, which, with the capital of $500,000, makes the impairment above noted. The liabilities show borrowed money $200,000. The reinsurance reserve is $272,320. The unpaid losses are $110,873. The unimpaired capital is $1,296.

THE ISLAND STATUS

Out of About 419 Paragraphs, Only About 33 Provoked Criticism or Suggestion—Even These Nearly All Mild and Mostly Suggestions.

Washington, April 22.—It is not likely that the new Philippine tariff will be promulgated until after the decision of the supreme court in the insular cases. It is stated in the war department, where the matter has received consideration, that this decision may make it unnecessary for the government to establish a system of tariff rates in the Philippines, although the department has proceeded with the work of equalizing the rates and receiving and considering suggestions as though the coming decision would not make any change in the present conditions.

Some months ago the war department published the tariff as prepared by the tariff experts in the Philippines and approved by the Taft commission. Interested parties, especially manufacturers and shippers, were invited to examine this proposed tariff and make suggestions and criticisms. It is interesting to note that of the about 419 paragraphs in the proposed tariff only about 33 paragraphs provoked criticism or suggestion. Even these were in a mild tone and nearly all take the form of suggestions.

Some of the more important suggestions were embodied in the following:

It was suggested that there will be difficulty in making all duties specific and that in many cases perhaps ad valorem duties will be better. There are some objections to the metric system, as American goods are in yard folds and European goods are in metric folds. If the yard folds are continued it will be better for the American manufacturers.

The Manila chamber of commerce asked that four months intervene between the promulgation of the tariff and its enforcement. No provision was made for marking oleomargarine to distinguish it from butter. The dairy interests thought such a provision desirable. A lower rate was asked for gasoline to be used for fuel and for launches. An ad valorem duty was advised upon the precious stones and watches. One firm suggested that coppers and oxide should be upon the free list.

It was claimed that cotton yarn should not be admitted at a lower rate than fabrics woven from such yarn; also that the weight and washing of cotton tissues should be changed in the interest of coarser cotton fabrics. There was quite an extensive discussion of this subject and it was pointed out that changes in the Cuban tariff also were needed in this particular.

The free entry of "news" print paper was advocated. Reductions were asked of from 20 to 40 per cent on harness and saddle makers' wares. It was suggested that cheap and expensive machinery should not pay the same rates. Certain typewriter firms wanted the duty on their machines reduced.

A change was asked in the classification of meat products. It was said that the duty on alcohol should be doubled, or manufacturers of whisky would be able to use the alcohol for making whisky at a much less cost than the distilled product.

California manufacturers asked a reduction on flour, cereals, prunes, benzine, gasoline and petroleum, some of them suggesting that these articles be placed on the free list. Condensed milk and fish some Pacific coast persons desired also should be placed on the free list.

One suggestion made was that all materials for the United States forces should be admitted free of duty.

Some rather interesting information reached the war department in connection with the tariff, it being shown that Russia sends to the Philippine two-fifths of all the petroleum imported by the people of the islands.

MARLBOROUGH'S ESTRANGED?

Indications if They Were, It Was Smoothed Over.

Paris, April 22.—The Duke of Marlborough, after traveling for about a month in the south of Spain, came to Paris about a week ago and stopped at the Hotel Bristol, on the Place Vendôme. While the duke was in Spain the Duchess of Marlborough has been in Paris, and for the past three weeks she has been staying at her father's mansion in the Avenue des Champs Elysees. After the duke returned from Spain he visited his father-in-law, where he saw the duchess. Sunday morning the duchess drove to the Hotel Bristol, where she was joined by the duke, and together the Marlboroughs proceeded to London. This would indicate if discord existed between the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough that her father had succeeded in smoothing it.

ATTACKED BY CHINESE.

Boxers and Robbers Caused Punjaub to Retreat.

Pekin, April 22.—Brigadier General A. J. F. Reid, commanding the Third brigade of the India Imperial service troops in China, who is now at Shan Hai Kwan, sent a company of punjab infantry to disperse a band of robbers in the neighborhood of Fu Ning.

A force of "Boxers" and robbers, more than a thousand strong, attacked the Indian troops, killing Major Browning and one Sepoy and wounding others. The company retreated to Fu Ning.

Reinforcements have been sent from Shan Hai Kwan. The "Boxers" are apparently well armed with modern rifles.

New York, April 22.—The $10,000 reward offered by the Rev. Father Mullin, of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Highbridge, for the return of the lost Willie McCormick to his parents and the arrest of his kidnapers, was withdrawn by the priest. Father Mullin said he had been compelled to take this action to escape a horde of mountebanks, clairvoyants, fakirs of every sort and cranks of all degrees, who have besieged him since he posted the money.

"I have had no time whatever for the performance of my sacred duties since I offered the reward," said Father Mullin. "I have had letters from all over the country and there have awaited me daily scores of persons pretending to know something of the lost lad. I have withdrawn the reward temporarily, as I have work that must be attended to. My offer has been good for four days and has produced no result, but infinite annoyance to me. If there come any news of the boy within the next week that appears to give hope I will at once renew my offer and increase the amount to any sum that will produce the results—the capture of the kidnapers and the return of the boy."

IRON WATER TANK FELL.

Loosened by Wind—Some Persons Were Injured.

Chicago, April 22.—High wind loosened a huge iron water tank from its fastening on the roof of the Galbraith building, Madison and Franklin streets, causing it to crash through the six floors to the ground, injuring five persons and resulting in a damage to the building estimated at $50,000. The injured:

Richard O'Brien, skull fractured by falling timbers; will die.

Julia Slotkin, back and shoulders injured by falling timbers.

Frank E. Langs, scalp wounds from falling glass.

Severo Pegaro, bootblack, with stand in building, shoulder dislocated and head severely injured by falling glass.

John P. Wiley, scalp wounds.

With two exceptions, the injured were pedestrians on the street, who had not time to make their escape. Had the accident happened on any other day but Sunday many lives would undoubtedly have been lost, as the building was occupied by several firms employing a large number of people.

The tank was 25 feet long, 6 feet in diameter and contained 40,000 gallons of water. In falling it made a hole about 40 feet square through the building.

RESERVOIR IN DANGER.

Army of Workmen Trying to Prevent Disastrous Flood in Ohio.

Toledo, O., April 22.—The people living for miles about the Lewiston reservoir in Logan county are greatly alarmed over a small break in the banks near the bulkhead. Between 300 and 400 men with teams were hauling thousands of shocks of corn fodder and packing it along the dangerous places in the embankment.

The community is much alarmed. The water in the reservoir, which covers about 1,000 acres, is within a foot of the top of the embankment, and should a serious break occur the loss to property, and perhaps life, cannot be calculated. Reliefs of men and teams are being secured from all over that section of the country. A few years ago the embankment broke and flooded the country for miles around.

EX-GOV. STOCKLEY DEAD.

For Years He Was Prominent in Politics, Chiefly in Delaware.

Dover, Del., April 22.—Former Governor Charles C. Stockley, a picturesque figure in Delaware politics and formerly a Democratic state leader, died late Sunday night after a long illness, at his home in Georgetown. He was 82 years old and had served in public life since early manhood. He served as county treasurer, county sheriff and was twice elected to the state senate. During his second term in the legislature he was elected speaker of the senate.

In 1882 his party selected him as chief executive of the state. In 1896 he left the Democratic party on the money question and championed the gold Democratic cause, serving as presidential elector candidate. After this he passed into private life.

DEEDS INSURANCE POLICIES AND WILLS ARE SAFE IN OUR VAULTS

Fortunes have been lost for the want of a will to prove their ownership, which perhaps has been lost or destroyed by fire, the carelessness of employees, or the work of thieves.

A Safe Deposit box is the only perfectly safe place for such valuable documents. They cannot be mislaid and fire or burglars cannot destroy them.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Black's Enterprise—William H. Black, of this city, has secured permission from Toronto council to operate a garbage wagon in that city.

Fancy Workers Entertained—Mrs. R. C. Herbert, of Seventh street, very pleasantly entertained the members of the Teachers' Fancy Work club, on Saturday afternoon.

To Marry in May—Jack Foley, of Steubenville, and Miss Henrietta Gilmore, of this city, will be married at the home of the bride on Second street on Monday, May 27. The contracting parties are well known in this city, where they will reside.

Prosecutor Failed to Appear—When the time arrived for a hearing in the case of George Waddell against Mack Stanley for assault and battery, set for trial in Justice McCarron's court, the prosecution failed to put in an appearance and the case was dismissed.

Rent Case in Court—The case of F. E. Grosshans versus Jesse Fisher, which was to have been tried in the court of Justice McLane this morning, has been continued until Wednesday at 1 o'clock. The suit was entered to recover judgment in the sum of $20, claimed due for rent.

Moving to Town—The household goods of Bert Allison, of Enon, Pa., and H. Gulton, of Salem, were received at the freight station Saturday.

Special Meeting Called—George Davidson and W. B. Hill spent Saturday duck hunting at Line Island and the president of their club has called a meeting for the purpose of hearing their troubles.

His Foot Was Crushed—James Tracy, a roller at the outbound platform of the freight station, met with a painful accident Saturday afternoon. He was engaged in placing a pair of skids in a car in order to roll casks, when they fell on his left foot, badly mashing it. He was taken to his home on Seventh street on a street car and will be unable to work for several days.

Walking Home From Bellaire—J. B. Maule, of the clerical force of the freight depot, went to Bellaire Saturday to spend Sunday with his parents. As the trains on the river division are not running, Mr. Maule was unable to get to the city today and it is reported that he left Bellaire at 12 o'clock on foot for this city and that he expects to be able to report for duty by Wednesday noon.

Y. M. C. A. Meetings—On account of the condition of the roads Evangelist Kaylor was unable to fill his appointment at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. After Bible reading by the secretary, the service was turned into a testimony meeting. The boys' band has grown to 27. It was decided to postpone Mr. McCoy's talk on "The Effect of Cigarette Smoking" to a later date, as the weather was so unpromising.

Nature's Crowning Work.
As for the woman, she found the chief wonders of creation not in the culminating vertebrate, but in the lowest orders of life.

"The jellyfish, for instance!" exclaimed the woman. "How was it ever got to jelly so beautifully?"

Now, the others thought they could understand her awe, although none of them, as it transpired, had ever put up any preserves.—Detroit Journal.

There were two engines attached to his train, but at Wellsville one of the heavy freight engines was also attached. But the conductor made a miscalculation, as he did not arrive in Cleveland until 6 o'clock yesterday morning, just in time for breakfast.

Word was received at the freight station Saturday night to put all freight in cars and haul it out of the way of the flood. Charley Brown acted as call boy and in a very short time the employees were on the scene and working like beavers. They worked until 12 o'clock when they repaired to the dining room of D. A. Devine on Second street, where a sumptuous repast was served. William Leech acted as toastmaster and Ticket Agent Hill ably responded.

FELL INTO THE STREAM

Only Means of Crossing Dry Run Washed Away—Citizens Want Matter Remedied.

The small bridge at Dry run was washed away and two children who attempted to cross the stream came near being drowned. A child named Hill fell in the stream last night and was rescued with difficulty. She was badly strangled and may be laid up with grip or pneumonia as a result of the exposure. One of Hugh Clark's little girls fell in the water here Thursday night and has been unable to leave the house since.

Many of the pupils of Neville institute are unable to attend on this account, and the residents are very anxious that some means of crossing be provided at once.

WORST HE EVER HAD

A TRAVELING MAN'S EXPERIENCE ON A TRAIN.

Stuck in a Snowdrift for 15 Hours. Impromptu Entertainment Arranged.

A traveling man who was on passenger train No. 336, due here at 12:21 Saturday, and which was delayed almost 15 hours at Kensington by a snowdrift, in speaking of the matter this morning said:

"There was from five to 15 feet of snow on the track and the engine became buried in it before the engineer could stop. We had not been there long when a farmer and his son, who live near the railroad, appeared on the scene, and seeing our predicament, returned to the house and brought a large can of coffee and some lunch. We were very glad to get it, and a collection was taken up and the man handsomely rewarded. They were compelled to walk through snow up to their waist in order to reach the train.

"The time went terribly slow and having nothing else to do an entertainment was arranged. 'The Span of Life' company, which was to have played in your city Saturday night, was on the train and its members came first on the program. After they finished every man, woman and child that could either sing, dance or give a recitation was called on, and I can tell you we did enjoy ourselves, considering the situation. That was the worst I have experienced in 20 years of traveling and I never want to go through anything like it again."

The train arrived in this city at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning and Ticket Agent Hill was summoned to the office to ticket the theatrical company from this city to Oil City, Pa., where they show tonight.

SUFFERED MUCH DAMAGE.

Snow Was 15 Inches to Two Feet on a Level And Drifts Enormous.

Salem perhaps fared as badly as any point in the country. There snow began falling Thursday night at 11 o'clock, following an all-day rain. Snow contained all through Friday, and Saturday morning the inhabitants awoke to find it 15 inches deep on a level. On the flats the snow drifted to a depth of six to twelve feet. Roofs at the nail mill and shops were in danger of falling in from the weight. Street

Streets Piled With Drifts Four to Six Feet High—The Sweep of the Storm.

Alliance, April 22.—In this city on Saturday all business was practically suspended. The streets were piled with snowdrifts from four to six feet high, rendering traffic impossible. Up to 2:30 p. m. not a train from east or west had come in over the Ft. Wayne railroad and but one over the C. & P., that being the down passenger train from Cleveland, due at 9:10 a. m. Cab lines, transfer and express wagons were tied up and few people were able to reach their places of business. The Adams Express wagon got stuck in a drift and was still standing there last evening. A freight wreck at Salem, in addition to the storm, delayed all trains on the main line.

The radius of the storm seemed to be from Mansfield on the west to East Palestine on the east, and along the line of the C. & P. from Bedford, 10 miles from Cleveland, to Salineville, on the south. There is no snow at Cleveland.

The oldest inhabitants never saw anything like it here in April.

JETHRO FARED BADLY.

Five Houses Were Partially Under Water And Other Families Moved.

At Jethro the residents fared badly from the high water. The houses of David Boyd, Thomas Spalding, Elmer Vandine, Michael Garvey and J. Smith were partially under water and the damage to each will be $50.

James Wright and A. Gray, of Jethro, expected the water to reach their residences and they moved up to the city.

English Robes of State.

Every robedmaker in London always keeps some of the most expensive robes of state—those of a registrar, for instance—ready and lends them out when officials have to use them at any great ceremony. Many a peer, when his portrait is to be added to the family picture gallery, has obtained the crimson and ermine from his tailor for a small consideration.

Why She Discarded Him.

"Don't despair, Edward, even if father does say you'll be young enough to marry five years from now."

"Oh, I don't care for myself, but how about you?"—Philadelphia Times.

Where Was the Swindle?

"Ethel," said Lionel Bertram Jones as he dropped his slice of bread in the plate with a noise that set the canary in the gilt cage overhead chirping merrily. "Ethel, I have something to say to you."

They had been married only four weeks, and the time had not arrived when she did all the saying.

"Do you remember," he went on as he abstractedly drilled a hole in the loaf with the point of a carving knife, "how when I rang the bell you came to the door with your fingers sticky with dough and said you thought it was your little brother who wanted to get in?"

"Yes."

"Oh, Ethel! How could you? How could you?"

"How could I what?" she responded as a guilty look crept into her face.

Just Making Sure.

An old farmer in Scotland once went to have a troublesome tooth extracted. Said the dentist after looking at the offending molar:

"It is a very ugly one. I would advise you to have it out by the painless system. It is only a shilling extra."

He showed the farmer the apparatus for administering gas, remarking that it would cause him to fall asleep for a minute, and before he awoke the tooth would be out. After a slight resistance the sufferer consented, proceeding to open his purse.

"Oh, never mind paying just now!" said the dentist kindly.

"Hoots!" answered the cautious old Scot. "A' wasn't thinking o' that. But if A'm ga-en ta sleep, A' thoct A' wad like ta count ma siller fust."
